RALLY FOR SPECTRA . . . SEPTEMBER AND OCTOBER!

AFTER a history-making start in Minneapolis, SPECTRA '76 is gaining momentum. Minnesota Sig Eps, determined to be first, conducted a successful kickoff dinner April 30. Thirty-five alumni representing fifteen chapters attended.

The Minnesota campaign was quickly followed by kickoffs in Richmond, Va.; Youngstown, Cincinnati and Cleveland, Ohio; Tulsa and Oklahoma City, Okla.; Little Rock, Ark.; Evansville, Ind.; and Kansas City, Mo. Other summer kickoffs were planned in Dallas, Tex.; Columbus, Ohio; Denver, Colo.; and Omaha, Neb. At Journal deadline, over 15 percent of the $1,000,000 goal had been pledged, with the program just beginning to roll.

Undergraduate chapters, with only a few weeks of the spring term remaining, conducted chapter campaigns and laid plans for fall wrap-ups. Chapters at the following colleges and universities had reported gifts by the Journal deadline:

FLORIDA		MISSOURI
Rollins College	$216.00	Southeast Mo. State	600.00
Univ. of Miami	35.00	NORTH CAROLINA
GEORGIA		Duke Univ.	40.00
Georgia Tech	50.00	NEW YORK
INDIANA		Syracuse	150.00
Tri-State College	500.00	OHIO
KANSAS		Ohio Wesleyan	70.00
Wichita State Univ.	10.00	Univ. of Cincinnati	1,500.00
MASSACHUSETTS		VIRGINIA
M. I. T.	350.00	College of Wm & Mary	1,000.00
		Madison Colony	500.00

In a letter to all Sig Eps, Grand President J. E. Zollinger, General Campaign Chairman, has called on each of us to show our loyalty by making the attainment of the $1,000,000 goal a personal challenge. "Other fraternities, as well as colleges and universities, are watching to see how we respond to this demand we have made of ourselves," he said. "We have staked our hopes for success on our faith in you and traditional Sig Ep loyalty." Early enthusiasm from both undergraduates and alumni is convincing evidence that Sig Eps love and want to support their Fraternity.

What is being hailed as the greatest demonstration of brotherhood on a nationwide scope will occur during the months of September and October. These months have been set aside as a time to "RALLY FOR SPECTRA!" Every Sig Ep will receive the SPECTRA brochure and the opportunity to make a significant gift.

The calendar for "RALLY FOR SPECTRA!" is filling rapidly. Have you set your personal goal?

Voice of the Fraternity

A department of opinion and conviction for the use of Sigma Phi Epsilon Alumni and Undergraduates. Letters of good will relating to topics of general fraternity interest and welfare are heartily solicited.

Post-Conclave Tour

On behalf of all Texas Sig Eps, and especially those of the host chapters from District 33, we want to extend a very warm and personal welcome to Dallas. We are honored that you are giving us the privilege of proving that Texas hospitality is not all brag.

From all indications this is to be the grandest GC/A in the history of Sigma Phi Epsilon. We fully expect that our fraternity will be more important and more vital to each of us at the conclusion of this exceptional gathering.

Special programs are being planned for alumni and their wives. Encourage all to attend and to reap the rewards of hospitality of the Dallas Alumni Chapter. Many hours of planning have gone into making this particular Conclave memorable for them.

The Dallas meeting will not only be an opportunity to learn more about our fraternity, but we Texans fully expect to make it a time for kicking our boots high and having a good time. The undergraduate chapters from East Texas State University, North Texas State University, and Texas Christian have made big plans to see that no one goes home without a smile on his face.

And, there is something special for all brothers coming to Dallas. As gluttons for fun, a special post-Conclave venture has been planned to Mexico City and Acapulco. It was too much of a shame to get this close and not offer a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to join with a group of brothers in having a special, incomparable holiday.

Consequently, Brother Sam Godfrey, President—Chapparral World Travel, and I have planned what we think is a first-class and inexpensive trip.

Due to the price of the trip, we are obligated to let the airlines and the hotels in Mexico City and Acapulco know our reservation list as soon as possible. Consequently, we must have your immediate reply as to whether or not you want to make the trip with us. We hope that you will; however, we have only a limited number of vacancies and we must know of your intentions immediately.

Since Brother Godfrey and I both will be along, we promise that we will not leave a stone unturned in either of these two outstanding cities. The trip is planned for leisure and for fun, and we plan to have plenty of both.

See you in Dallas.—JACK D. WHEELER, Associate Dean of Students—Student Activities, Box 13617, N. T. Station, Denton, Tex. 76203.

They Meet Again

Three years ago, Chris Wakild from South Haven, Mich., and Matt Scocozza from Brooklyn Heights, N.Y., met in a small hotel in Murray, Ky., where they were staying with their parents, who had brought them to the University at Murray to register as freshmen. The two were but casually acquainted during their freshman year and saw each other but occasionally on campus. Chris transferred to Western Kentucky State University in Bowling Green after his freshman year.

This past spring, Matt was president of the Sig Ep colony at Murray and wrote the Sig Ep chapter at Western asking them if they could send an initiation team for Murray's installation in May. The Western men sent an initiation team but did not reveal the names of the entire initiation team.

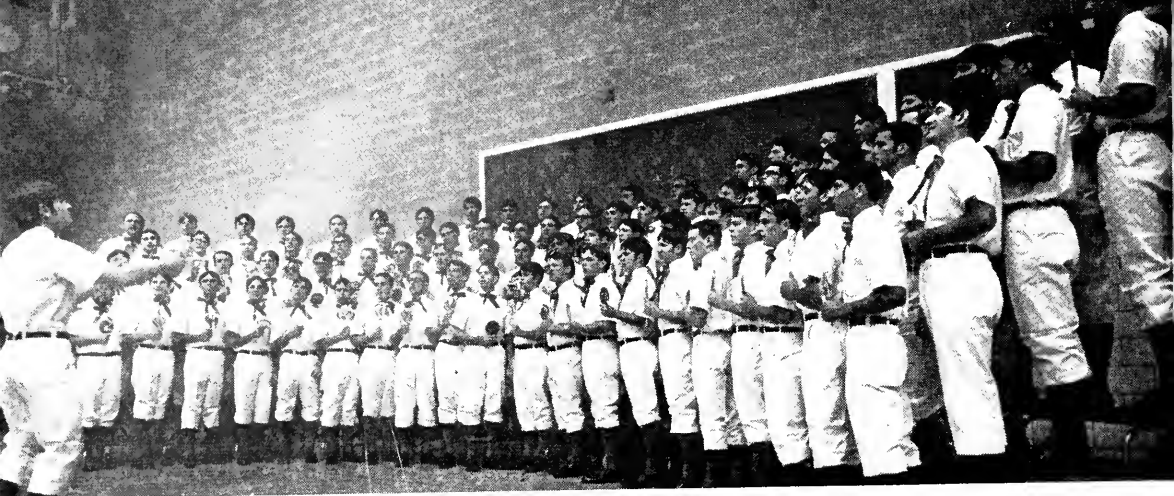

Was Matt surprised when the Western men arrived and the chapter president was none other than Chris Wakild. Both of them had become Sig Ep presidents in such a short time and apart from each other. Chris remembered Matt's name but purposely kept it all a secret until they met. "THE SMALL WORLD OF DISTRICT 8 . . . and SIGMA PHI EPSILON."—RICHARD R. Fan Mail

Having served as one of the national officers of my fraternity, Pi Kappa Phi, I have been receiving your fraternity publication for a number of years and have enjoyed keeping up with Sigma Phi Epsilon with which I first became acquainted at the University of Arkansas back in 1923.

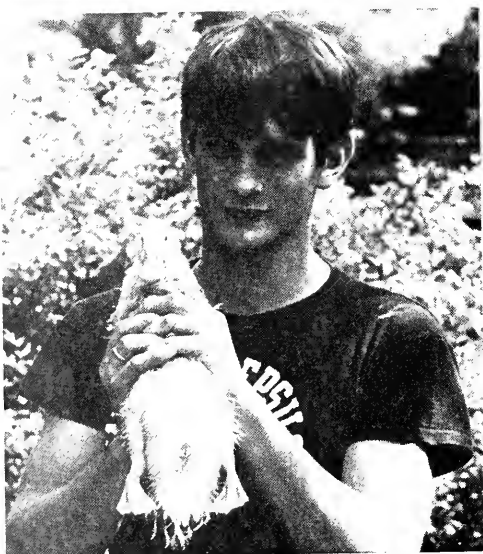

I have had the pleasure of meeting ever so many prominent Sig Eps through the years and especially quite a few members of your fine fraternity who have been serving on college faculties as deans and professors.

While I'm writing you, I congratulate your fraternity upon its beautiful new headquarters which you dedicated only recently. I hope to have the pleasure of visiting it.—MEL METCALFE, Pi Kappa Phi, 411 World Trade Bldg., Port Arthur, Tex.

Kentucky Sig Eps Communicate

By JERRY LEGERE
and GERRY RONAYNE

WHAT useful purpose does a fraternity serve? What relevance does it have and what position does it deserve on the college scene in a thought-provoking world where idle words are supplanted by demanding actions? Students, universities, and communities have been raising these questions and the brothers at Kentucky Alpha have endeavored a positive response.

In hoping to shy away from such hollow traditions as pranks on the Administration lawn and in looking toward the more serious-minded student who is interested in the development of his full personal potential, the initial action taken by Kentucky Alpha saw the birth of a speaker-discussion series where students, faculty, administrators, and public servants could meet on campus to present their message of academic relevance. Fraternities were still subjected to bad publicity, humiliated for their immaturity, castigated for serious prank-related accidents which happened on their premises, and scorned for their disinterest in meeting the challenge of tomorrow in today's real world. Despite the fact that Kentucky Alpha's speaker forum was arousing student and faculty interest and making a definite contribution to the school environment, the image of the typical University of Kentucky fraternity remained in the eyes of the general public that of an organization dedicated to loose morals, drunken weekends, and all manners of hell-raising.

In an effort to counteract and negate the effects of such bad publicity, the brothers came upon the idea of a fraternity-produced television program whereby the public could be exposed to what the fraternal ideal means in the development of an individual's character and its consequent benefits to the community at large. Previously, the chapter had been thinking along the lines of utilizing television as a means of promoting rush. In pursuing the idea, Corresponding Secretary Gerry Ronayne went to a local television station to discuss the possibility of appearing on a widely viewed public affairs program, "Town Talk." In the midst of negotiations with the station it became apparent that a Sig Ep appearance could not be made until after rush, most likely in the spring. Thus, the program which was to have dealt solely with rush was retitled "The Changing Fraternity."

In the subsequent weeks leading up to the television appearance, numerous bull sessions were held among the brothers to exchange ideas as to what is meant when referring to "The Changing Fraternity." The conclusion was drawn that the fraternity should not be changing in relation to the ideals upon which it was originally founded but rather that it should seek to dispense with those activities and traditions which do not contribute to the fulfillment of these ideals.

The actual format of the program called for an unrehearsed discussion led by WKYT-TV hostess June Rollings, a Delta Delta Delta alumna of Ohio State. In order to broaden the scope and outlook of the discussion, invitations were extended to Barry Ogilby, IFC president, and Don Grater, newly selected Greek man of the year, to appear with chapter President Danny Dorsett and Speaker Series Coordinator Gerry Ronayne. The panel conversation with Miss Rollings covered such topics as fraternity parties, fraternity community service projects, the rushing and pledging of Negroes, hazing, and the Sig Ep Speaker Series. One of the community service projects discussed was the all-Greek participation in the Heart Fund Drive in which 800 of the 2,000 local heart volunteers were Greeks. Following the discussion the entire Kentucky Alpha chapter performed a medley of fraternity songs, including a sweetheart serenade. The appearance of the entire chapter for the medley was a remarkable display of unity on the part of the brothers considering everyone had to get out of bed at the unearthly hour of 7:00 A.M. for a pre-program rehearsal.

As a word of encouragement for other Sig Ep chapters which might care to produce a similar program in their area, the viewer response was quite favorable. Among the responses received was an invitation from another local television station to do a similar program. Administration officials also displayed their interest in the Sig Ep appearance. Indeed, the University wanted to make a tape of the program and use it for distribution throughout the state to commercial television stations and for use on Kentucky's 12-station educational network. However, because of technical problems the tape was not made. Plans call for the University to make a film of the next Sig Ep appearance on another television station.

Such use of the local broadcasting media by a fraternity has an unlimited wealth of possibilities. The need for communicating that which is the fraternal ideal in as many ways as possible is essential, for in a world torn by a revolution of ideas it is the fraternal ideal which is helping to provide for a sense of direction and stability.

Delaware Sig Eps find the new chapter library a Godsend in the pursuit of academic excellence.

What Makes a Fraternity

The Chapter Library at Delaware

The Delaware chapter's recently installed "athenaeum" helps the brothers climb back up the ladder of scholastic excellence

IN Big Men on the Campus, in intramural athletics, and in interfraternity activities, Sigma Phi Epsilon for many years has been in the forefront of all University of Delaware fraternities. Until recently, however, scholarship has been in the doldrums, the fraternity ranking near or at the bottom of all fraternities.

In the past two semesters, however, the men of Delaware Alpha have climbed back up the ladder of scholastic excellence and much of the credit can be given to a newly installed library supplied by the alumni. In these last two semesters Sigma Phi Epsilon has ranked a strong fifth out of 12 fraternities and this standing is expected to be improved.

At the Interfraternity Council annual dinner meeting held March 24 Sigma Phi Epsilon was given the Faculty Advisors' Award for Scholastic Excellence which is awarded for most improvement scholastically, best study program, best study conditions, and best cultural program of the 12 fraternities at Delaware during the current school year.

The library has been installed on the second floor of the house in a quiet, well-lighted, 22-ft.-by-18-ft. room which was formerly a portion of a sleeping deck. It is furnished with wall-to-wall carpeting, draperies, three study tables, appropriate chairs, and bookshelves. It is equipped with a large, unabridged dictionary, a set of encyclopedia, numerous handbooks, reference books, novels, and other publications, including magazines. Most recently the alumni purchased for the library a complete set of "Great Books" published in conjunction with the University of Chicago, by the Encyclopaedia Britannica. Strict quiet rules are readily obeyed and, with classmen of all levels, the library has become a very popular area for real productive study.

The alumni organization providing library facilities is the Delaware Alpha Educational Foundation, a corporation completely separate from the householding corporation. Gifts to this corporation are tax-deductible. The Foundation, in addition to providing furnishings and equipment, has recently established in the library a Hall of Fame Gallery.

To be nominated for election to the Hall of Fame an alumnus of Delaware Alpha must be considered to have been an outstanding success in his chosen field of endeavor. The alumni hope to accomplish the following through the Hall of Fame:

1. Inspire Active Chapter members to emulate the achievements of Hall of Fame members.
2. Provide rushing material for pledging new members.
3. Maintain contact with alumni and obtain their continued interest in Delaware Alpha Chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

The following alumni have had their photographic portraits installed in the Hall of Fame Gallery:

Dr. W. O. SYPHERD, '07, former President of the University of Delaware.

WILLIAM M. FRANCIS, '08, Past Grand President of the Grand Chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity.

Portraits of the following are currently being prepared:

Dr. BAYARD CARTER, '20, Chairman of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, Duke University Medical School.

W. DENT SMITH, '22, President and Chief Executive Officer of Eastern & Chartered Trust Co., Toronto, Canada.

Chapter president Milton Prettyman receives the IFC award for scholastic excellence from the faculty adviser to Delaware fraternities.

Dr. ROBERT S. ROWE, '42, Dean of Engineering, Vanderbilt University.

In addition to having equipped the library as an aid to good scholarship the alumni make annual monetary awards to undergraduates meeting the following requirements: the highest overall cumulative index in the chapter; the greatest over-all improvement in the chapter; the senior, the junior, and the sophomore with the highest index in his respective class; the senior, junior, and sophomore making the most improvement in his respective class.

Naturally, much of the recent improvement in scholastic achievement must be credited to the efforts of the chapter's officers and the Chapter Counselor, Dr. Herbert Walter, but the effective tool with which they work cannot be overlooked—the attractive and serviceable library.

A New Home At New Mexico

By JOHN ANDERSON

New Mexico Sig Eps dedicate their fine new home and observe the 40th anniversary of the chapter in April

A NUMBER of meaningful events led up to the dedication of a new home for the University of New Mexico Sig Eps in April. Undergraduate and alumni brothers participated in the dedication of the new home and commemorated the 40th anniversary of the chapter at the same time.

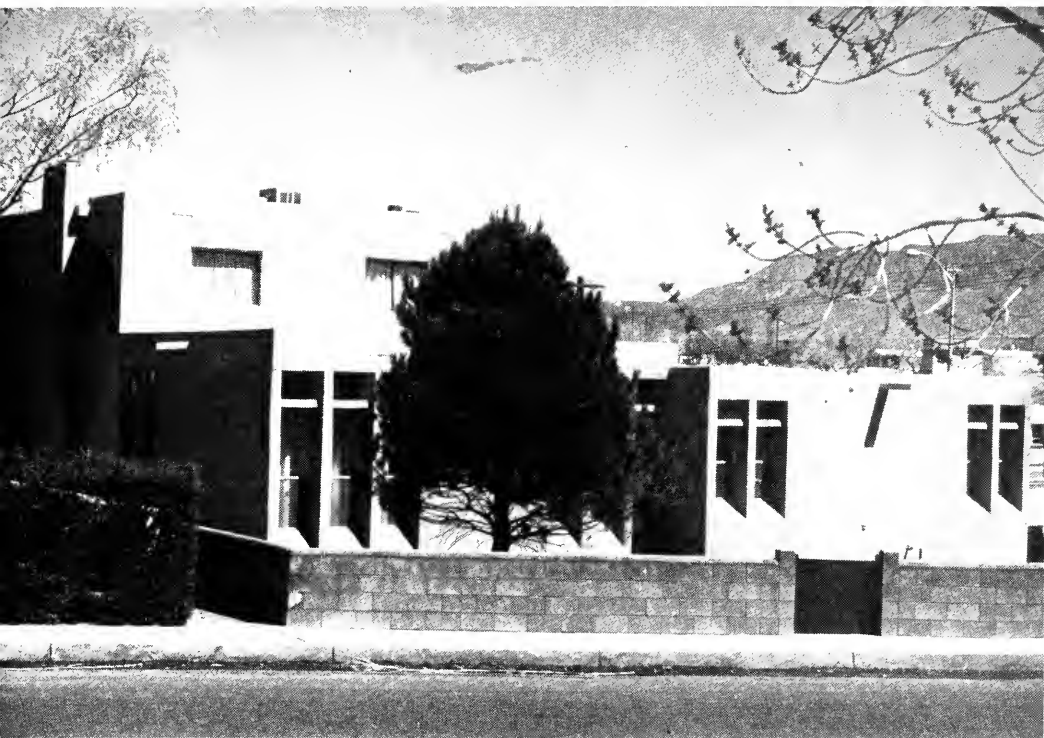

The ground-breaking in November, 1968, featured Grand President J. E. Zollinger and Mrs. Zollinger, and UNM Dean of Men William Naylor, along with the architect, contractor, and members of the active chapter and alumni board.

The dedication of the new house in April, 1969, honored the recent past president of UNM, Tom Popejoy, who befriended New Mexico Alpha significantly upon several occasions during his many years in the leadership of the University. Dean of Men William Naylor was among the group of about 80 who enjoyed the Founders' Day Banquet in the new house. Speakers included John Anderson, Judge Ralph Brown, and Dave Jackson and Mike Walker, alumni of New Mexico Alpha. The history of the chapter, through good and bad times, was recounted by these speakers.

The new fraternity home at 801 Yale N.E. in Albuquerque is strategically situated on a prime corner directly opposite the University of New Mexico campus at the beginning of the Greek neighborhood. The house is of contemporary pueblo style, in consonance with the adjacent campus buildings and in harmony with the Southwest architecture of the nearby fraternity and sorority houses. A large faculty home was purchased last summer and extensively remodeled to result in the finest fraternity house at UNM. New furnishings were purchased for all eight semi-private bedrooms. All rooms have connecting or adjacent baths. A spacious chapter room-living room-dining area occupies an L-shaped area on the main floor, along with a two-room suite, paneled den, and a large kitchen that includes a Mexican-tiled wood-burning fireplace. The upper level features a master bedroom with fireplace, three other bedrooms, two baths, and a sundeck roof. The lower floor of the tri-level house has a two-room suite. A garage at the rear of the property was promptly converted to a recreation room by active chapter efforts.

The new house was primarily obtained through the efforts of Chapter president John Gordon, the alumni board of directors including John Anderson (Florida Alpha, '55), president, William Bennett (Colorado Gamma, '63), secretary, Lawrence Foor (New Mexico Alpha, '58), treasurer, members James McCraw (New Mexico Alpha,

View of New Mexico's new house showing Sandia Mountains which lie to the East.

'31 and Wayne Clay (New Mexico Alpha, '64), and with substantial assistance from the University of New Mexico staff. Judge M. Ralph Brown (New Mexico Alpha, '29), a charter member, performed the considerable amount of legal work involved in the chapter's move.

The entire financial burden of the remodeling and refurbishing is being carried by the active chapter members. The new land and existing large private home were owned clear prior to the reconstruction.

It is hoped that this step forward will also result in a stronger brotherhood and in better alumni support for New Mexico Alpha. Much effort is still required in these areas to assure the over-all success of this venture.

Evansville Sig Eps Create a War Memorial

State and community leaders dedicate a highway bridge a memorial, not to war, but to unselfish men who gave their lives

By GERALD MATTHEWS and DAVE ELLIOTT

THE Evansville chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon has accomplished a deed of citizenship in the community so outstanding, and we believe so truly monumental, that it deserves a place in the nation's record of such accomplishments.

The chapter's dream of creating a major memorial honoring the Vietnam war dead became a reality in the dedication by the States of Indiana and Kentucky of the Gold Star Memorial Bridge. The dedication, held on May 31, was the successful culmination of three years of hard work on the part of the brothers at Evansville. The memorial is unique in three respects: it is believed to be the first Vietnam memorial of any significance in the nation, it is known to be the only existing bi-state memorial to honor the fallen soldiers of any war, and it was conceived and sponsored by a group of college students, the men of the Evansville chapter.

This bridge, on famous U.S. Highway 41, consists of two spans across the Ohio River between Evansville and Henderson, Ky. The idea of such a memorial was first conceived in the fall of 1966 by Wayne Trevathan, a brother in the chapter, now in pursuit of a degree at Christian Theological Seminary.

Nearly 150 families of survivors of soldiers who have fallen in Vietnam gathered in the Great Hall of the student union building on the University of Evansville campus for the dedication. They attended a memorial luncheon and heard an inspiring address by Maj. Gen. H. S. Matheson, commander of the 101st Army Airborne Division at Fort Campbell, Ky. Also present were Congressman Roger Zion from Indiana's Eighth Congressional District, Robert Goldsborough, Kentucky Director of Public Information, Wallace B. Graves, president of the University of Evansville, and John W. Hartman, member of the Sigma Phi Epsilon National Board of Directors. These men spoke briefly and the steps taken to make the chapter's dream become a reality were recounted by the speakers. The difficulties that were overcome were not omitted.

Although Wayne Trevathan conceived the idea in 1966, all our efforts seem to become strangled in local red tape and financial problems until the spring of 1968. Believing stoutly in our project, Bill Greer, staff writer for the Evansville Sunday Courier and Press, and journalism professor at the University, suggested in a newspaper question-and-answer column that the Sig Eps' project was commendable and deserved the report of all.

Thomas J. Russell, chapter president at that time, prepared a brief for presentation to Kentucky's governor, Louie B. Nunn, and to the then governor of Indiana, Roger Branigin. Governor Nunn gave his immediate and enthusiastic approval on behalf of the State of Kentucky but Governor Branigin informed us that it would be necessary to obtain the approval of the state legislature before continuing with our plans. We then approached our State Senator, Sidney Kramer, and he agreed to sponsor our proposal in the Indiana General Assembly in the forthcoming session. Resolution No. 32 was passed by the assembly authorizing the memorial and naming it the Gold Star Memorial Bridge in honor of the Gold Star Mothers. Present Governor Edgar D. Whitcomb of Indiana then signed the bill into law and the dedication was officially scheduled.

The luncheon and speeches formed a prelude to the dedication, the ceremony for which took place at the site. Following a press conference for the attending dignitaries after the luncheon, a police-escorted motorcade nearly three miles long stretched out toward the bridges.

At the site, Chapter President Gerry M. Thornbro officiated as the permanent road sign designating the spans as the Gold Star Memorial Bridge was formally unveiled by General Matheson and Maj. Gen. Larry C. Dawson, Kentucky Adjutant General.

The ceremony began with a memorial prayer by the Reverend Paul F. Liebold, Bishop of the Evansville Diocese of the Roman Catholic Church, presentation of the colors by an honor guard representing all the branches of the service, and taps played by a lone bugler, then echoed by a lone bugler on the opposite side of the river. Volleys were then fired by tanks of the Kentucky National Guard and, following the unveiling of the sign and the singing of the National Anthem by Brother Mike McLaughlin accompanied by the University of Evansville Marching Band, memorial wreaths and floral arrangements were placed at the base of the sign by the survivors' families, attending dignitaries, and the chapter.

Although the magnitude of the ceremony and activities called for in the draft was greater than we had originally bargained for, the brothers of Evansville rose to the occasion. We were fully aware of the contribution we were making to our community, our University, and our Fraternity.

Many national, state, and local governmental dignitaries were on hand, and to be surrounded by them on such an occasion was an awe-inspiring experience to say the least. And indeed, the sponsorship, organization, and conduct of the bridge dedication was a monumental task for a chapter of our size and for its successful completion we can be justifiably proud. But, in a broader sense, the dedication of this memorial to the fallen heroes of the Vietnam war is something of which Sigma Phi Epsilons everywhere can be proud, for here is yet another area where Sig Ep has taken the initiative and demonstrated its leadership. While many college organizations have done much to protest the killing and waste of the war in Vietnam, Sigma Phi Epsilon can now say that it is the only college organization to take the time and effort to honor the men who have died there. Whether or not we agree with the war, the soldiers who have fallen there have given their lives to and for their country and scarcely enough attention has been paid to this fact in the face of the nation-wide controversy over the war's justification. Therein lay the motivation for our quest for a fitting memorial honoring the Vietnam war dead—that people will not forget what has been done for their country if not for them personally.

We sincerely hope that, by our sponsorship of this memorial, people will realize that the majority of college students have not lost sight of the sacrifice which so many families have made as a result of the Vietnam conflict, that most college students are not just selfishly concerned with their own welfare and future but compassionately concerned with the welfare and fate of others as well. We hope that the existence of this memorial bridge will forever remind all who cross it of the sacrifices made by our fighting men in Vietnam in behalf of our beloved country.

Gen. Matheson places flowers to honor the Vietnam War dead of Kentucky and Indiana.

Grand President Zollinger and Drew Bright.

Zollinger Honored At William and Mary

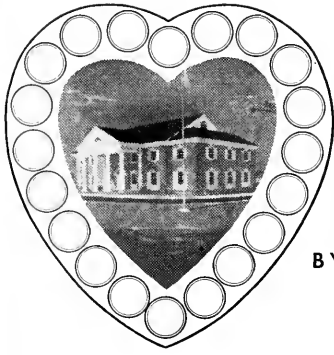

By JIM ALMAND

WILLIAM AND MARY Sig Eps have dedicated the living room of their new house to Grand President J. E. Zollinger, a former president of the chapter and its outstanding benefactor.

Mr. and Mrs. Zollinger were guests of honor at the dedication on May 3, which was also attended by Executive Director Donald M. Johnson and Mrs. Johnson, of Richmond, Dean of Men Carson H. Barnes (an alumnus brother), Assistant Dean of Men Wallace Elliott, and Alumni President Robert Usry. Many parents on hand at the College for Parents' day also attended.

In presenting the dedication plaque to the Grand President, chapter president Drew Bright lauded the contributions made by Brother Zollinger. He helped to reactivate the chapter in 1961 and established a fund to make possible two annual $500 scholarships for Virginia Delta brothers. This is done through the William L. Phillips Foundation. He also helped make the new chapter house possible. He serves as a trustee of the College's Endowment Association and is a member of the Board of Visitors.

Following the dedication Eddie Peverell, chapter vice-president, presented Executive Director Johnson with a check for $1,000 for the Phillips Foundation. A buffet dinner concluded the day.

HEADQUARTERS HEARTBEAT

BY DONALD M. JOHNSON-EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Chapter Investment Fund (CIF) Performance The CIF Board of Managers recently released a report on the fund's performance which was prepared by Morgan Guaranty Trust Company, the fund's financial adviser and custodian. The report discloses that the fund clearly has met its investment objectives (safety of principal, growth, and income, in that order) during its eight-year history and that its performance compares most favorably with public funds having similar objectives.

In keeping with its conservative investment objectives, the CIF is invested approximately 60 per cent in common (equity) stocks and 40 per cent in fixed income (debt) securities. The fund's common stocks had a 9.918 per cent rate of return from 1961-68, compared with the Standard & Poor's index of 10.753 per cent and the Dow Jones index of 8.935 per cent during the same period. The performance of the entire fund (common stocks and fixed income securities) was 6.150 per cent during the same period; Wellington Fund, a public "balanced fund" with objectives similar to the CIF's, recorded a 6.0 per cent performance.

The CIF operates like an open-end, balanced mutual fund except there is no charge for investing in the CIF. The Chapter Investment Fund was started for the benefit of the chapters, to help them meet their long-range housing needs. Each chapter is required to invest $5 per undergraduate member per year in its own reserved account; each chapter can also make unlimited additional investments in its account at any time.

In response to several inquiries, the CIF Board of Managers is now studying the advisability of having a subsidiary fund devoted to achieving maximal growth (appreciation) without regard to income. Growth funds, particularly "go-go" funds, have received considerable publicity in recent months, perhaps as a result of the depreciation in the dollar's purchasing power. Nevertheless, such a fund is much riskier (more volatile) than the CIF and would have to be operated separately from the CIF. When the Board of Managers completes its study of this matter, the report will be distributed to all interested members.

Statistics SIGMA PHI EPSILON is the second largest fraternity in number of chapters and eighth largest in number of members. The Fraternity now has 175 undergraduate chapters and 12 colonies. During 1968-69, 5,462 pledged Sig Ep and 3,580 were initiated. The total number of members initiated into Sigma Phi Epsilon stands at 88,945 as of the fiscal year end (June 30).

Staff Changes THE Executive Director announces with regret that Staff Representatives Brian R. Bennett and George E. Fedoroff have left Fraternity employment. The Fraternity will have the most staff representatives in its history when seven professional chapter consultants start the 1969-70 visitation program; they include Leslie J. Wickey, Sacramento State, '68, Laurence C. Atkins, Tennessee Wesleyan, '66, John P. Hearn, Florida State, '68, Roger L. Strube, Kansas State, '69, Milton C. Prettyman, Delaware, '69, Michael C. Williams, Memphis State, '69, David E. Lembach, Colorado State College, '67.

Program Development Director Donald L. Tanner, Memphis State, '67, announced he will be resigning his position September 1 to teach in a nearby high school while finishing work on his master's degree in Guidance and Counseling at Virginia Commonwealth University. First as a staff representative and then in his present position, Don has served the Fraternity with distinction in his regular and many special duties.

Exciting Grand Chapter THE 700 registrants convening in Dallas, Tex., at the Marriott Motor Hotel August 16-20 will find the Grand Chapter a stimulating experience. Starting with the physical arrangements, it will be the first time the Fraternity has selected Dallas as a convention city, just as it's a "first" that a motor hotel has been the convention site.

In addition to the unique setting, there will be plenty to capture the delegates' excitement. The legislative sessions promise much spirited debate. Not for several years has there been so much interest demonstrated in the legislation to be proposed for consideration by and for the delegates. Legislative items under study include changing the Grand Treasurer's term of office from two to six years, reducing the initiation fees paid by a local fraternity alumnus for Sigma Phi Epsilon membership, amending the unanimous balloting requirement for selection of members, increasing the pledge fee from the present $8, providing for orderly management of a defunct chapter's property, and paving the way for an undergraduate chapter female auxiliary organization. These and other legislative items will help the Fraternity to meet changing conditions and maintain its leadership.

Sigma Phi Epsilon is an undergraduate-oriented organization . . . communications and responsibility go upward, downward and horizontally. Nowhere is this more dramatically demonstrated than at the Grand Chapter where undergraduates and alumni study, discuss, debate, and act on necessary legislation. There is no reason for a "generation gap" in Sigma Phi Epsilon!

Archives and Acquisitions THE original oil portraits of the 12 Founders, masterfully painted by Everett C. Thorpe (Utah State, '36), are now marked by brass plates with the name of the Founder and of the donor(s). These and other gifts donated by members or chapters will carry the permanent acknowledgment.

Other recent acquisitions include: 1940 Conclave (Los Angeles) group photograph, donated by Ralph E. Kinsey, Richmond. National Director Lewis A. Mason, Syracuse, contributed the group photo of the 1963 Conclave (Mackinac Island, Michigan) and many items of memorabilia from the time Brother Mason served the Fraternity as a staff representative. Past Grand President Rodney C. Berry, Sr., Virginia, gave directories and conclave mementos of the Fraternity's early years. Foundation Trustee X. R. Gill, Colorado, and Warden N. Hartman, Colorado, each donated an early group photograph of the Colorado chapter. The $1,000 testamentary bequest from Brother Herbert K. Wood, Purdue, has been received; it will most likely be used to purchase display equipment for the Archives.

You can help in this important ongoing project . . . the Archives need more items from the Fraternity's earliest days.

Texans in the Public Eye

THREE Texans who for different reasons have been in the public eye were cornered by the photographer at a benefit luncheon at the University of Texas in the spring.

The best known, of course, is former President Lyndon Johnson. But also very well known to the football fans of America are Darrell Royal, coach of the Longhorns' football team, and Steve Worster, Texas Alpha brother. 1968 All-American fullback.

As the 1968 season ended, Coach Royal's Longhorns were ranked Number 3 in the nation, and Steve Worster from his fullback position helped put them up there.

MAJ. CHRIS O. DIVICH, Kansas, '56, has been decorated with his second award of the Distinguished Flying Cross and eight awards of the Air Medal for action in Southeast Asia.

Major Divich received the DFC for extraordinary achievement as an EB-66 Destroyer aircraft commander over North Vietnam. Despite attacks by enemy jet fighters and the constant threat from enemy ground fire, he provided vital electronic support for the Air Force and Navy.

The major's Air Medals—he now holds nine—were for outstanding airmanship and courage on successful and important missions completed under hazardous conditions. He flew 200 missions over North Vietnam and holds a senior pilot rating. He received the medals at Andrews AFB, Md., where he flies the KC-135 Stratotanker with a unit of the Headquarters Command.

MAJ. JAMES E. KELM, Oklahoma, has received his third and fourth awards of the Distinguished Flying Cross and his second award of the Air Force Commendation Medal for service in Vietnam.

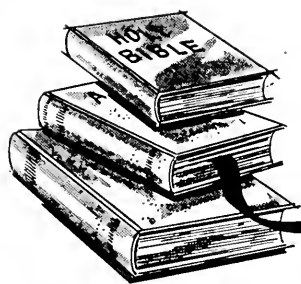

Major Kelm, who flew the F-100 Super Sabre during his combat tour, earned the DFCs for extraordinary achievement on missions near Dalat and Phan Thiet. His commendation medal was for meritorious service as flight commander and weapons officer for the 614th Tactical Fighter Squadron, Phan Rang Air Base. He identified and solved numerous problems in connection with supplying close air support.

Major Kelm was presented the medals during ceremonies at the Pentagon, where he is now serving as an air operations officer. The 13-year veteran holds a senior pilot rating.

MAJ. NORMAN E. MORTIMER, Omaha, '64, a member of the Air Force Communications Service, has assumed command of the 2147th Communications Squadron at Mildenhall RAF Station, England. He previously served at Tuy Hoa Air Base, Vietnam.

THE MEANING OF BROTHERHOOD

THE GOOD BROTHER

By KENNY BOURGEOIS
Southern Mississippi

WHAT are the traits of the good brother?

A good brother must have pride. He must be proud of himself and of his fraternity. His pride will motivate him both socially and academically.

A good brother must be a gentleman and set a good example so that pledges and new members can see that the name of Sigma Phi Epsilon stands for the highest and finest caliber of manhood.

A good brother must also strive for the best in study habits and abilities. To be capable of scholastic excellence is, by and large, to be capable eventually of vocational and professional excellence, also.

A good brother must know how to conduct himself well at social events. Social skills play an important part in getting along in the world.

A good brother must excel in everything to the best of his ability. He must dig deep into the ideals of brotherhood and into the organization of a fraternity, and he must become interested in the administration, management, and daily routine of fraternity life.

A good brother must give of himself in unselfishness to help others. Every member's heart must be touched with a feeling of brotherhood toward his fellows. A good brother must work hard toward the establishment of an ideal chapter which he can proudly say he is a member of.

A brother must be a well-disciplined person. He should stand on his own two feet and feel the wealth of himself as a person.

INTELLECTUAL INDIVIDUALISM

By DON SHELLNBURGER
Lamar Tech

HENRY DAVID THOREAU said: "The mass of men lead lives of quiet desperation."

Twentieth Century America has seen a revolutionary change in man with regard to his relation to society. The past two decades have been of special significance, for the events and the scientific advancements of those two decades have left man searching in an endeavor to find self-identity in a punch-card society of systemania. Under such circumstances it does not seem at all unwarranted that the topic of intellectual individualism should have become the object of much discussion and the subject-matter of many writers.

One such author, Aldous Huxley, expressed his feelings with regard to man's lack of individuality when he stated that in. . . " . . . the course of evolution nature has gone to endless trouble to see that every individual is unlike every other individual. Physically and mentally, each one of us is unique. Any culture which, in the interest of efficiency or in the name of some political or religious dogma, seeks to standardize the human individual, commits an outrage against man's biological nature."

Obviously enough, we are a nation of efficiency; and it is in the interest of the efficiency that we strive for an education and seek so vigorously to obtain a position in life whereby we can most effectively do our fair share in adding to the proficiency of America's social machine. It seems somewhat of a shame, though, that the net result of all this strife is that, as Educating for Brotherhood points out, "... today's active instruments of civilization particularly in America are producing a nation of extremely shallow selves." A lesson is quoted from the writings of the sociologist, David Riesman. Equally as shameful is the fact that man, when finding himself existing in that quiet desperation of which Thoreau so wisely spoke, fails to seek out and become aware of the cause of his plight. He fails to realize that he has let himself fall heir to a standardized "cog" which society has prepared for him and, at the same time, has moulded him to fit. The basic principle of which I speak, and upon which the acculturation of American man seems to be grounded, may be illustrated through a simple analogy.

Picture a piece of clay. An artist such as James Meade takes that piece of clay and moulds it into many different shapes and sizes, after which he sets the moulded clay on a shelf, allowing it to harden and to age. After the moulded clay has hardened and aged, the artist glazes it in a fire, and then attempts to sell it, since artistry is his livelihood. The finished product now becomes observed by many people who comment upon its beauty, asking the question, "Who was the artist?" To this question the proud owner replies, "James Meade." Such is the life of the average piece of pottery; and when contemplating the finished product, one soon comes to the realize that—no matter how beautiful it may appear to be—there exists within that finished product no life whatsoever other than that of the artist who moulded it. That is fine.

Now turn your attention to another type of moulding. Picture a human being and think about how he is moulded. He can be sent to college and allowed to age and harden, after which he can be glazed in a commencement ceremony and acquire a bright and shiny diploma. It is at this point that our finished product, so to speak, can be sold to society and placed in that "cog" for which he has been so perfectly moulded. (For our immediate purposes, we'll call it "Cog Number Eight"; and if one were to look in the "Cog Index," he would probably find "Cog Number Eight" to be labeled as the "Ho-Hum Cog"; and, listed under that label, one would probably find approximately 20,000,000 social security numbers, each of which would represent some person who, at that very moment, would probably be leading a life of quiet desperation.)

Now that the finished product has been sold to society and fitted into his prospective cog, he too can become the object of much attention; for persons will be inclined to observe him and say, "My, doesn't he fit 'Cog Number Eight' well—who was the artist?" Our reply? "Lamar State College of Technology was the artist." Here again, one cannot help but ask himself the question, "What life exists within that finished product other than that of the artist who moulded it?" This time, though, the answer is not so simple; for we have been dealing with a human being—not a piece of clay. The clay has no choice as to its plight—no choice whatsoever. The human being, if he realizes it in time, does have a choice. Therein lies the ultimate shame of the situation, for far too many people are afraid to come to grips with that realization.

Think of how nice it would be to carve one's own cog in life, leaving one's self plenty of room in which to move about creatively. Wouldn't it be rewarding to go to the "Cog Index" someday and, instead of looking up "Cog Number Eight" in search of one's social security number, one will find the number "Infinity," with nothing other than one's name, a dash, and the word "INDIVIDUAL" written beside it?

How does one achieve such a goal? In my opinion, one begins by questioning himself, saying, "Am I a man, or am I a piece of clay? Am I carving my own cog, or am I letting myself be moulded to fit into a standardized cog? Am I living a life of quiet desperation, or am I living a life of creative individualism?"

ALUMNI GROUP ACTIVITY

At Alabama the brothers and pledges working together have taken a bright, fresh new look toward the betterment of the chapter and especially their relationship toward the alumni. First of all, the Alumni News Letter is being published more frequently and more alumni banquets are planned for the coming fall and spring semesters. Second, the alumni board on campus in Tuscaloosa has taken control of any member's financial obligations who fails to pay his bills promptly. Finally, a new alumni chapter, the first in northern Alabama, is now being organized in the city of Huntsville. Through these efforts we hope to see our new chapter house which hopefully will be completed within one year.

Arizona State Sig Eps from across the United States will gather in Tempe with other members of the Phoenix Alumni Association on November 1, for Homecoming activities which this year happen to coincide with Fraternity Founders' Day. A stag party is planned on Friday, October 31, with members of Arizona Alpha with a banquet honoring the Founders on Saturday, the 1st, scheduled for the late afternoon prior to the ASU-Wyoming football game.

The annual Sig Ep Invitational Golf Tournament is scheduled for Saturday morning, an open house by Arizona Alpha in the early afternoon, and the annual Active-Alumni Football encounter on Sunday, November 2. A special mailing giving details will be made. Additional information can be obtained from Win Brayer, Alumni Social Chairman, 8044 E. Cambridge, Scottsdale 85257, or Dr. David R. Courley, Alumni President, 1321 E. Manhattan Drive in Tempe, 85281.

Other alumni activities include the publication of a Valley of the Sun Sig Ep Directory in the near future, Holiday cocktail parties, and the resumption of the Phoenix Alumni Chapter luncheons or dinners in the fall.

The Central Arkansas Alumni Chapter has met twice in the past two months. On May 14, a noon luncheon was held at the Little Rock Club. The meeting turned from an informal social to a brief discussion of the up-coming project SPECTRA with Max Jensen. The participation was overwhelming and extra tables and chairs had to be provided for the increased number.

On June 11, the local kick-off meeting for SPECTRA was held at the Country Club of Little Rock. Max Jensen provided the brothers with an interesting program on the project. Special guests were M. C. Lewis of Henderson's Alumni Board, Mike Fitzugh and Jim Sloan of Arkansas Alpha.

Colorado Mines Sig Eps recently honored retiring Alumni Board members Charlie Patch and Harlan Short at a steak dinner. More than 20 alumni from across the state attended. Among those present to speak in honor of Charlie's and Harlan's 46 years of work as members of the Colorado Delta Alumni Board were Dave Morse, District 15 Governor; Dr. William C. Smolenske, national chaplain, and Marv Kay, chapter adviser. For their great service to the chapter, Charlie and Harlan were presented with silver beer steins and their names have been recorded as the chapter's first Outstanding Alumni.

Drury alumni and undergraduates, including seven of the original founders, celebrated the chapter's 20th anniversary at the house on May 3. Speakers included Bill Bland, first president of the chapter, and Ken Anderson, the number one initiate.

The founders took the initiative in setting up a Dollar-a-Month club to provide alumni financial support for house improvement and development.

K. E. Van Scoy, president of the Greater Kansas City Alumni Chapter, presented the James Naismith-Emil Liston Sportsmanship Award to the Fairmont State College (W.Va.) basketball team on March 15.

The award is presented annually to the coach and team displaying the best sportsmanship during the NAIA basketball tournament. It was established by the alumni chapter in honor of James Naismith, the inventor of basketball and a Sig Ep at Kansas, and Emil S. Liston, Baker University Sig Ep and a founder of the tournament.

Members of the Greater Kansas City Alumni Chapter were addressed at their June 10 meeting by Johnny Robinson, the only American League Professional Football player to be chosen on the All-American Pro-Football team, who showed and explained the Chiefs Highlights film.

Brother Robinson explained the draft methods used by both leagues, methods of remuneration, exhibition games, and then answered questions for nearly an hour in an open forum session.

The Los Angeles Alumni Chapter has completed plans for 1969 Founders' Day Dinner, which will be held on Monday evening, November 17. The location will be announced, to be determined by the number of Los Angeles area Sig Eps desiring to attend. With several thousand alumni in the Southern California area, an attempt will be made to have a substantial percentage present on November 17 for an outstanding evening.

Sig Eps desiring to be included on the mailing for the dinner should send their name, title, firm, address, and business telephone to: Frank M. Gleberman, New York Life Insurance Co., 2801 West Sixth Street, Los Angeles, Calif. 90057. Gleberman is president of the group.

An ambitious program of other alumni events such as football luncheons, Monday evening "stein" meetings, and an alumni dance will be planned from the core of 300-400 that are expected at the biggest Founders' Day Dinner for many a year.

Montana alumni will hold a party at Homecoming on October 17 and 18 to honor William Gallagher and Boynton Paige, who will receive Distinguished Service Awards from the University.

At the annual meeting of the National Capital Alumni Chapter on May 22 these officers were elected: E. Blake Cox, president; Joseph H. Newlin, vice-president; Dayton M. Harrington, treasurer; and B. C. Cruickshanks, secretary.

Monthly alumni luncheons will be resumed in the fall at a place to be announced.

Founders' Day at Stevens Tech this year will be a bit more significant than other years. The chapter will be marking another peak in its history as the doors of their newly acquired second house will be officially opened for alumni. The new house adjoins the familiar red door at 530 Hudson Street and will more than double the present living quarters.

The purchase of this house is the largest financial undertaking of the chapter since the present facilities were refurbished a decade ago.

Working through their ambitious and growing Alumni Board the brothers have financed the purchase and renovation of their new home almost entirely from alumni support.

The brothers will be proud to show alumni their progress with their new acquisition at any time, but especially on Founders' Day (November 8) when the new home will be in full operation.

good of the Order

The Foundation Awards Thirteen Scholarships

SIGMA PHI EPSILON through its Educational Foundation has granted 13 scholarships to undergraduate members for 1969-70.

Eight members have been selected to receive the $350 scholarships offered through the general fund; four members of the Richmond chapter will receive $350 grants from the William L. Phillips Estate; and one scholarship was granted by the Foundation's Virginia Delta (William and Mary) Fund.

Winners in the first group are: Robert Alan Crewdson, Colorado Mines; Thomas Marshall Hensley, Marshall; Wallace Graham McOuat, Indiana; Albert Alan Menashe, Oregon; Raymond William Nalepa, Stevens Tech; Frank John Tassone, Jr., Belmont Abbey; Fredrick Melton Taylor, Jr., Florida; and Robert Alan Wichser, Morningside.

Phillips winners in the Richmond chapter are: Robert E. Bushkar, David Duncan Frazer, David Carrington Giammittoria, and James Edgar Speight, Jr.

Recipient in the William and Mary chapter: Raymond Edwin Peverell.

Robert Alan Crewdson, Colorado Mines, '71, geophysics major from Rochester, N.Y., is preparing for a career in geophysical engineering and is well on his way with a rank of 18th in a class of 278 students. He has served the chapter as secretary, pledge trainer, and athletic chairman. He has also played on the football, basketball, softball, volleyball, and skiing intramural teams.

Besides serving as interior decoration chairman of the new Colorado Mines chapter house, Bob has undertaken the job of writing a chapter history.

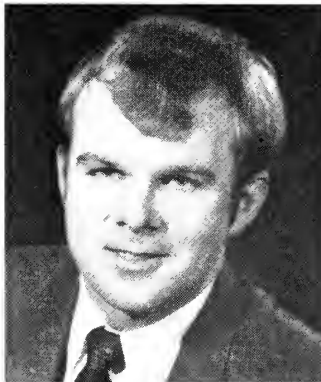

On campus, he served as Sophomore Class vice-president, assistant secretary and then secretary of student government, and chairman of a committee to study the organization of student council. He has lettered in varsity skiing.

Thomas Marshall Hensley, Jr., Marshall, '70, is an accounting major who anticipates a career in the field of tax law. His cumulative gpa is 3.7 (4.0). He has served the chapter as president, rush chairman, song leader, alumni relations chairman, and as pledge educator edited an outstanding pledge manual supplement. He has participated in every intramural sport—football, basketball, volleyball, softball, and soccer.

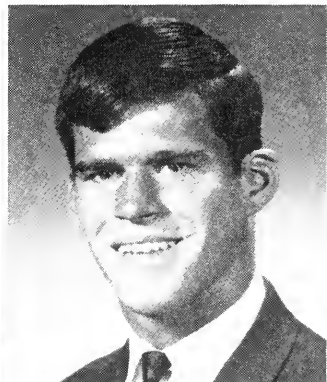

He has served as a senator in student government, participating also on the Arts and Science advisory committee, the Senate Budget and Appropriations Committee, and the Commitment to Marshall Committee. He has also served as Marco, Marshall's mascot and spirit leader. He is a member of Alpha Kappa Psi.

Wallace G. McOuat, Indiana, '69, is a math major planning to go into public accounting after he completes his studies. His cumulative gpa is 3.64 (4.0). He has served the chapter as scholarship chairman and controller. Intramural sports include football, tennis, basketball, and handball.

McOuat is a letterman in wrestling. During the spring semester of his sophomore, junior, and senior years he spent many hours training for the Little 500 bicycle race, in which the Sig Eps nearly always place. He has also served as committee chairman for the Indiana University Student Foundation, as house organizer for the Young Republicans, and as a member of Class Council. He is a member of Pi Mu Epsilon and Phi Eta Sigma. He is married.

Albert Alan Menashe, Oregon, '71, is a general social science major, heading for a career in law and on his way with a gpa of 3.29 (4.0). He has served the chapter as Sophomore Class president and will be assistant house manager next term. Intramural sports are football and softball. Extracurricular activities include student body senator-at-large, chairman of the Student Action Committee, and member of the Student Administrative Board.

Raymond William Nalepa, Stevens Tech, '71, chemical engineering major who is preparing for a career in research and development, ranks 37 in a class of 421 students.

He has served the chapter two terms as chaplain, was on the pledge review board and on the scholarship and house manager committees. He has written many articles for Alpha SPEaks.

He has served as vice-president of the Sophomore Class and will serve as Junior Class vice-president. Student government offices include Student Council representative to the honor board, while committee work includes chairmanship of Student Council activities and membership on the social committee. His most recent campus honor was election as secretary of Student Council.

Frank John Tassone, Jr., Belmont Abbey, '70, is studying to become a college professor of English. His scholarship rank to date is 3rd in a class of 172 students. He was president of his chapter in 1968-69 and parliamentarian in 1967-68. He was chairman of the constitutional revision committee and has also served on the rush and building committees. His intramural sports are basketball, softball, football, handball, and tennis. Establishment of a chapter alumni corporation and formation of a standards board committee were due largely to his leadership.

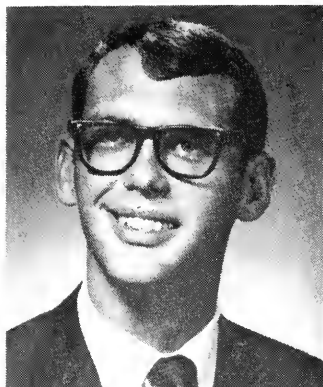

He has served as Sophomore Class president, as chairman of the Orientation Committee, and a member of the administrative committee of the judicial board. He is one of two student representatives to the Administrative Committee of the College and a student proctor in the dormitory.

He also found time to edit the yearbook, The Spire, to sing in Chanticleers, and serve at Abbey Cathedral. He is a member of Delta Epsilon Sigma.

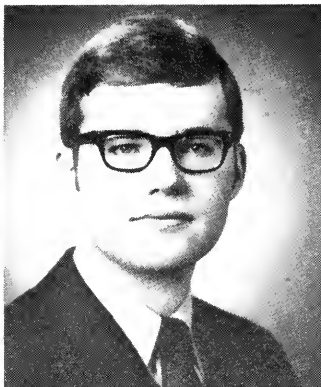

Fredrick Melton Taylor, Jr., Florida, '70, is a major in finance who would like to become a stockbroker. He has a cumulative gpa of 3.14 (4.0).

He has served the chapter as assistant controller and controller and participated on the Activities Committee, Gator Heart Committee, Housing Committee (chairman), and on the pledge review board.

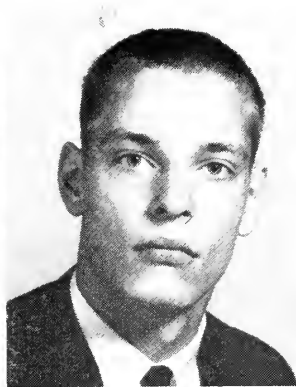

Student government offices include undersecretary of interior, director of student booksale, undersecretary of organizations, and honor court election official. He is a member of the University President's recommendation committee and has edited Gung-Ho, the ROTC newspaper. He is a member of Phi Eta Sigma and Blue Key.

Robert Alan Wichser, Morningside, '71, is a pre-law major with a 3.804 (4.0) gpa.

He has served as pledge educator, director of alumni relations, assistant rush chairman, and as a member of the steering committee. He has participated in intramural football and basketball.

He is a member of the Methodist Student Movement, Young Republicans, the Flying Club, and Phi Eta Sigma.

David Duncan Frazer, Richmond, '70, biology major, intends to pursue a career in dentistry or oral pathology. He has a cumulative gpa of 3.5 in a 4.0 system.

He has been president of his pledge class, served on the House and Grounds and Grievance Committees, has been active in intramural sports, and represented the chapter on IFC. He showed his leadership ability by conducting a raffle last spring which brought in about $400 for the chapter's treasury. In February he was elected chapter president.

He has written sports articles for the Collegian, campus newspaper, and is a member of Beta Beta Beta.

James Edgar Speight, Jr., Richmond, '71, is majoring in psychology in preparation for a career in personnel relations. His gpa is 3.125 (4.0).

Since his initiation he has been a member of the Pledge Board and is scholarship chairman for the coming term. He has represented the chapter in student government and also in Greek Week activities. He has played intramural soccer and basketball.

Speight is a member of the ROTC marching band and pep band. He was also a member of the University concert band.

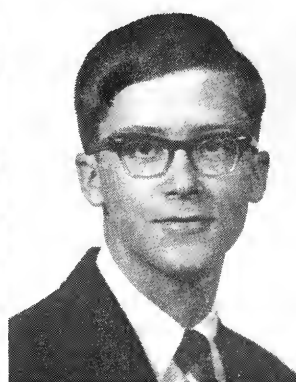

Robert Eugene Bushkar, Richmond, '71, is an economics major heading for a career as an economist. During his freshman year he stood 5th in a class of 327; his cumulative gpa is 3.6 (4.0), and he is Virginia Alpha's outstanding scholar.

He has participated in nearly all intramural sports. He was a member of the freshman basketball team and of the varsity baseball team.

David Carrington Giammittorio, Richmond, '71, is a biology major studying to become a dentist. He ranks in the upper 10 per cent of his class.

He has served the chapter as guide and as rush captain for northern Virginia as well as a participant in intramural sports.

His pre-dental studies entail a double major in biology and chemistry, and he is also employed as a laboratory assistant for general chemistry.

Raymond Edwin Peverell, William and Mary, '70, business management major. He has been pledge president, chapter social chairman, and a member of the rush committee. He has participated in nearly all intramural sports and is vying for a position on the varsity lacrosse team.

He served on the Parents Day Committee for two terms and is a member of the Society for the Advancement of Management.

THE SPIRIT OF QUEST

The following article is submitted to the JOURNAL by Dr. William C. Smolenske, National Chaplain. It was written by Dr. Raymond V. Kearns, former associate minister of Montview Presbyterian Church, Denver, Colo.

Some years ago I took the timeless trail to the land which we call Holy. That land whose cities and villages are not merely places on the map but are indeed the trysting places of God with man. I went as all the pilgrims before me, seeking to find the Christ in that land in which He lived, which He loved, which He served and in which He died at last, despised, rejected, crucified by the very people whom He came to seek, to serve and to save. Well, I found Him there. Clear and indelible, I discovered His footprints across all the land which shall forever be called Holy because he himself once passed that way.

Time forbids that I should dwell on many of these experiences; I mention only one. Toward the close of a long and strenuous day of sight-seeing in the old walled city of Jerusalem, my intimate friend and fellow-traveler Presbyterian Elder, with whom I had served in a fine church for seven years, said to me, "When we are through here let's go over to the YMCA building."

I was very happy to accept his suggestion. There it was plainly visible and considered one of the finest Association buildings in all the world. My friend happened to be a member of the National Council of the YMCA in this country, because of that fact, we had instant entree to the office of the General Secretary.

Though the hour was late, he insisted upon giving us a personally conducted tour over the entire plant. We marveled at every turn at the completeness of its equipment. Then when we had gone everywhere else, he said, "Let's go into the tower." That tower that lifts itself high above the Jerusalem landscape. We stepped into an elevator and were carried up almost 100 feet. We walked out on a little balcony and there before us was all the panorama of Jerusalem. There were many of the places of interest we had visited that very day, David Street, the Wailing Wall, the Dome of the Rock Mosque on the very site of Solomon's Temple, the Via Dolorosa where Jesus carried His cross. Beyond the further wall the Brook of Kedron, the Garden of Gethsemane, the Mount of Olives. In the distance the green river of the Jordan, and in the far distance the hazy blue expanse of the Dead Sea. What a panorama and how packed with memories and meanings for all mankind. We were loathe to leave it, but at last out of deference to our host, we turned reluctantly and went back into the tower.

Then he said, "Let's go a little further." No elevator now, just a winding stairway. We climbed it and came to the circular room at the top of the tower, which is known as David's Prayer Room. The only furnishings in the room—three prayer benches, which by their presence summon you to prayer. However, when you come to the door on the outside there is a statement offered in several languages—you read it in your own: "No audible conversation is ever to be carried on within these walls."

I went into the room alone. As I closed the door, I saw attached on the inside wall a gilt picture frame. The frame was empty but underneath that empty frame, I read these words written in letters of gold, "Whom having not seen we love."

Then it came over me in compelling fashion that I could not hope to find the Christ in that room or in all Palestine, save the spirit of the quest was in my soul.

Further there came to me, it seemed as by an audible voice, that which shall always remain the most significant lesson of my Palestine experience. I seemed to hear a voice saying to me: "You don't have to come here to find Him—you don't have to travel ten thousand miles over land and sea to find Him—you can find Him anywhere! Has He Himself not said, "Ask and ye shall receive; seek and ye shall find; knock and it shall be opened unto you?" —RAYMOND V. KEARNS

EX-OFFICIAL FAMILY

Charles G. Eberly, Bowling Green, former National Librarian of the Fraternity, will serve as an instructor in evaluation services at Michigan State University in 1969-70. He is studying for his doctorate at the University.

DOINGS

IN THE DISTRICTS

The role of the Fraternity on the changing college campus was one of several topics discussed by chapter officers at the District 8 Leadership School, held April 26, 1969, at East Tennessee State. Other topics included chapter management, rush, and pledge education. Richard Panther, District Governor of 8a, and Charles Holcombe, District Governor of 8b, coordinated the school. District 8 has held an officers workshop every year for the last two decades.

Delegates attended from Tennessee Alpha, Delta, Tennessee Tech Colony; Kentucky Alpha, Gamma, Delta, Murray Colony, Morehead Colony; and Indiana Epsilon. Informal discussions were held Friday night. Saturday morning the school began with talks about alumni relations, the Fraternity's role in the twentieth century, Headquarters operations, rush, pledge education, and chapter management. At the end of the day-long meeting, an evaluation was held for the purpose of improving future schools. It was decided that the chapters would like to meet again next year with more emphasis on such things as alumni relations, chapter internal operations, and finances.

As the school came to a close, the delegates returned to their home chapters with renewed vigor to improve their chapter operations in the next year.
—LAURENCE C. ATKINS

The Northeastern Ohio chapters, District 24, with the Cleveland State chapter as host, held a seminar on April 18-20. Topics included Rushing, Pledging, Socials, Alumni Relations, and Ways and Means.

At the Saturday luncheon, former Grand President Harry D. Kurtz gave a talk on the Educational Foundation and SPECTRA 76.

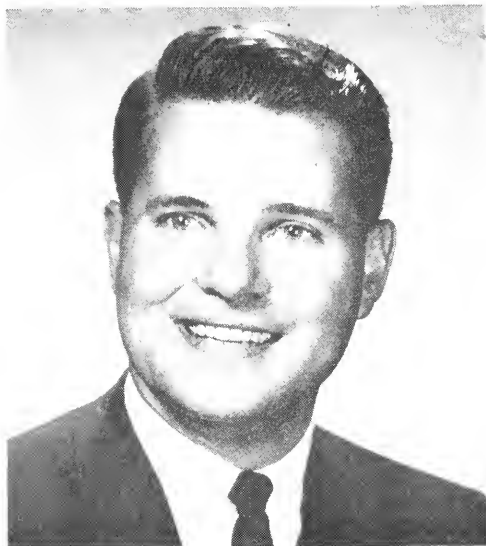

Organized by District Governor Charles I. O'Neal, the weekend included a Parisian Party on Saturday night.

Larry L. Campbell, Lewis and Clark, '53, an executive with Pacific Northwest Bell Telephone at Portland, Ore., is the new Governor of District 17. This district takes in the Oregon State, Oregon, Lewis and Clark, Washington State, and Washington chapters.

He held offices of vice-president, pledge trainer, historian, and house manager in Delta Tau Rho which received a charter as Oregon Gamma in 1957.

Delegates at District 8a leadership school came from four chapters and two colonies.

Larry Campbell, Lewis and Clark, '55, newly appointed governor of District 17.

Extracurricular activities included forensics and debate. He was state president of the College League of Young Republicans. From 1952 through 1966 he was a member of the steering committee of campaigns for Senator Mark Hatfield, a Beta.

He served as president of the Oregon Gamma Alumni Association in 1966 and as chapter counselor since 1967. He attended the 1967 Conclave and 1968 Academy.

He has participated in many community activities and numerous honors have come to him. He was president of the alumni association of his alma mater in 1966-67 and again in 1967-68 and was named a trustee of the College in 1968. He was a nominee for Portland Junior First Citizen in 1959 and a selectee for Outstanding Young Men of America in 1967. He is a deacon in St. Matthew Lutheran Church and a member of the board of administration of Faith Lutheran Church.

He served in the U. S. Army Reserve with the rank of master sergeant in 1951-62.

Campbell and his wife Karlyn, University of Oregon Alpha Phi, were married in 1961 and have three children, all boys, six, five, and two years old. They reside at Lake Oswego, Ore., at 17243 S. W. Fernwood Drive.

REGIONAL REVELRY AND RIVALRY

A talented Central Missouri State softball team traveled to Rolla on April 26 for the District 34 softball tournament. The University of Missouri at Rolla, Drury College, and Southwest Missouri State also sent teams. Central, behind the pitching of Jim Boyington and John Fiene and a very strong hitting attack, won the tournament by defeating Rolla, 11-2 and Drury, 8-3. Following the games everyone went back to the Rolla house for refreshments and fellowship.

This was the first of many planned district activities and was the first chance for most of us to experience multi-chapter brotherhood.

Delaware Sig Eps defeated Sig Eps from Temple, Muhlenberg, and Philadelphia Textile for the second year at Temple's annual Sig Ep basketball tournament, February 28-March 1. Trophies included a stationary trophy, a rotating trophy, M.V.P. trophy, and five all-star trophies. Delaware Sig Eps walked away with four of the eight. A post-tournament party was held at the Temple Sig Ep house. Chairman of the tournament was Ed Cialino.

Brothers from Johns Hopkins and George Washington held a joint picnic in Washington in April.

PLANS AND PROCEDURES FOR BETTER OPERATION

Spring pledges at Delaware received a taste of brotherhood during a March pledge retreat held at the house. All pledges, their big brothers, and pledge educators spent the weekend getting to know each other and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Several faculty members came to the retreat to end their retreat by speaking to them about scholarship, fraternity life, and responsibility to themselves and the University.

Georgia Sig Eps improved chapter achievement markedly by means of a very efficient and responsible cabinet. The newly appointed cabinet met with the executive committee the first day of spring quarter and planned its agenda for the following year. After one quarter of hard work—here are the results:

Rush (Hugh Pafford): Four pledges in wildcat rush, newly organized rush clinic, newly organized summer rush program, and a totally reorganized fall rush program.

Social (Mike Lassiter): Six parties spring quarter including a Hippie and a Gangster party, five new type of parties at the river, best Spring Formal in chapter history, new porch-front parties for fall and spring rush.

Sorority relations (Charles Pittman): Several new type of socials with top sororities, on campus-beer party, river party, softball game, football game, creation of Thursday night date night.

Pledge Training (Dick DeLoach): New pledge education—talks by Executive committee, chaplain, and honorary guest—weekly. New point system to produce incentive to work and learn, reorganize Big Brother-Little Brother relations, emphasis on virtue, diligence, brotherly love, and scholarship.

Dr. Roger Carstensen talks on "The Evolution of Man" with brothers at Georgia.

Public relations (Steve King): Improved Journal reporting, creation of "Girls Of The Golden Heart" and "Order of the Skull and Bones" for outstanding brothers, 100 per cent better performance in Heart Fund Drive and Blood Drive than year before, emphasis on chapter scrap book and service projects.

Scholarship (Jim Graham): Study Hours, new

At Lehigh, Dr. W. Demming Lewis, president of the University; Dr. Raymond Emrich, chairman of the Department of Physics; and Prof. Carlos Alvare, adjunct professor of Environmental Design, were guests of the Chapter, as were students from five of the classes in architecture.

Dr. Lewis fielded the questions concerning "Space," a subject on which he is an internationally recognized authority. Dr. Emrich, an eminent physicist, dealt with "Sound" and "Air," while Professor Alvare concerned himself with questions about "Environmental Design."

The men of the chapter joined in the two-hour session and aided the advancement of the chapter's interest in "Man Tomorrow," which is basic to the several-year old program.

The evenings provide exchange of advanced knowledge rather than point toward conclusions which are recognized not only as terminal in the smaller sense, but as points of departure in the longer perspective.

Since the inauguration of this series, several other houses have followed S. P. E.'s initiative and are developing comparable projects.

—KEITH MORTON

The Monmouth chapter in its education program stresses traditions that it does not believe should be taken for granted, as they so often are. It believes that a good fraternity chapter must be dynamic in its environment—its campus and community—in order to establish a tradition of progress and maintain it. Chapter leaders recognize that the strong belief in fraternity exemplified by College President Duncan Wimpress is a strong factor.

Pledge education at Rensselaer has become increasingly concerned with the integration of the pledge into the mainstream of all the activities of the house and the building of close personal ties with all the brothers. Weekly Big Brother meetings are held where each pledge is discussed at length, including his attitudes and problems. Each pledge is required to interview at least two brothers a week. This provides a reason for getting together with a few brothers who they really don't know too well and shoot the breeze. A Pledge-Brother Weekend is the highlight of the pledging period. During this time the pledges throw a party for the brothers and take them on in hockey and basketball. These activities help to round out the brother.

CHAPTER COUNSELORS

Delaware Sig Eps awarded faculty adviser Dean Albert Nickles a plaque in appreciation of his service to the chapter and to the fraternity system at Delaware.

Georgia Sig Eps initiated Roger Carstensen, dean of the Christian College of Georgia, as an honorary member on April 21. He has lectured to the pledges on the Brotherhood of Man and advised members. He is an accomplished pianist and organist.

Dr. Carstensen holds the following degrees: B.Th., Northwest Christian; A.B., M.A., Oregon; B.D., Phillips; and Ph.D., Vanderbilt.

National Headquarters has announced appointment of the following new Chapter Counselors since the last JOURNAL:

Fort Hays State, James C. Stansbury (Washington); Murray State, Thomas M. Spoerner (Culver-Stockton); Georgia, William Morgan House (Georgia); Miami (Ohio), Thomas E. At Southwest Missouri State, John Phillips is a freshman weight-man for the varsity track team. Greg Kohlmaier is a standout swimmer for the varsity Bears while Bill Frisella competes in diving.

Bob Kurz, the chapter's pro golfer, fired a 133-yard hole-in-one at Grandview municipal golf course in Springfield. Bob received national recognition in the Golfers' Digest.

Through spring rush Missouri Eta acquired freshman basketball player Mike Nash who dressed out with the varsity regularly this season. George Kanne, freshman quarterback, and veteran Don Frank will be on the gridiron next season.

Rob Reiser and Dave Hart are looking towards their first tennis match the first week of April. Matmen Tom DeGrand and Brian O'Brien will be participating in intercollegiate wrestling this year. Both men are rated as top contenders by their coaches. Bob O'Toole, pitcher, completes the list of varsity athletes, participating in baseball.

At Tennessee Wesleyan, Don Corey is No. 1 on the tennis team. Kelly Payne returns to the third position, bringing with him Buddy Parker and Lee Stewart.

At Vermont, Phil Natowich, Beep Foster, Dick Farrell, Steve Yanagi, and Don Robinson are on the baseball team.

Jay Keillor placed third in the New England Indoor Track Meet in the highjump, and in so doing set a new school record.

Crandy Grant, Junior National Downhill Champion in skiing two years ago, won the Fisk Trophy at Suicide-Six ski area earlier this winter. His competition included some members of the U.S. National Ski Team.

Wake Forest baseball stars included Craig Robinson, Tom Berry, Jim Poole, Jim Eschen, John Robinson, and captain Bill Heitman.

At Washington, Claire Leifer begins his second season as a starting outfielder for the Huskies. As a sophomore he batted .312 and set school records with the most runs and hits in a season.

Jim Beard led qualifying for the golf team with a 72-hole score of 297.

At Washington U. (Mo.), David Urich won five medals in swimming at the College Athletic Conference tournament at Sewanee, Tenn. Curt Day won third in 191-pound wrestling.

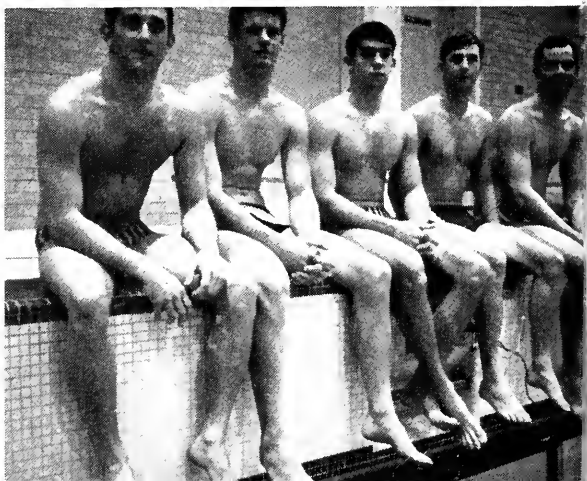

At the fall sports banquet, Dave Urich received an award as the most improved swimmer.

Mike Loke was the undefeated champion in table tennis.

At West Virginia Tech, Sig Eps hold down four of the five starting positions on the basketball team. John Reed and Thacker Williams are on the track team. Bob Sandige is on the swimming team. Bob Coreau, Bill Musial, and Joe Demharter are on the golf team. Jim Stover, Jerry Finnegan, John Benda, and Ron Tominack are in spring football.

Hamack, Collins, McTighe, Dutrow, Giberson led William and Mary swimming team to a second-place finish in Southern Conference.

Roger Fonda, Colorado State, lunges forward to gain lead in relay race.

At William and Mary, varsity swimmers Keith Hamack, George Collins, Jay McTighe, Dave Dutrow, and Wayne Giberson form the nucleus of the team which captured second in both the Virginia State Championship and the Southern Conference Championship. Dave is the number one backstroker and holds two school records. Wayne has the school record in the 200-yard free style. George is this year's captain and holds the conference record in the 200-yard butterfly. At the Virginia State Championships George was voted the outstanding swimmer in the state, winning three first places.

Doug Freiburger, Bob Hobson, Jeff Thiel, and Ollie Carrithers comprised four of the eleven wrestling weight classes. In the Southern Conference Championship, Hobson repeated his win of a year ago at 167. Freiburger won second at heavy-weight. Thiel captured second place at 160. Second place at 145 was won by Carrithers.

At Worcester Tech, co-captain Art Katsaros, Bill Beloff, Steve Andruchow, Dave Sund, and Bruce Tompkins will play varsity baseball.

Members of the crew team include captain Stu Nickerson, Steve Koshgarian, Doug Michel, Dave Ploss, and Kent Van Heukelam. Steve Lacaire will be on the golf team. Members of the track team include Dana Louth, Don St. Marie, Don Rapp, and Jim Delary.

At Youngstown, Denny Steinbeck averaged 12 points and 7 rebounds per game to help lead the basketball team to a 19-7 record.

Mike Devar and Gary Savick are on the baseball team. Jim Deering, George Gluvna, Terry Durka, and Cole Pentz are hopeful starters in football.

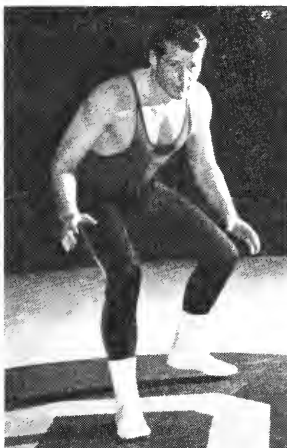

Ralph Johnson coached the swim team through a 10-4 season. Dale Welk was named all-American, with Ron Vesley, George Kanish, Jeff Hundt, Tom Parker, and Mark Scallican also on the team.

The foregoing reports of varsity athletic activities were received for the May JOURNAL; lack of space did not permit their use.

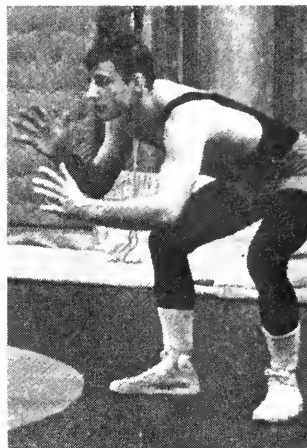

The items which follow were reported for the current issue.

At Arkansas, Bob White, kicking specialist for the Razorbacks, led the team in scoring. John Reese and David Spatz also played for the Sugar Bowl victors. Glenn Lowe and Ronnie Carrol were freshman linemen for the Shoats. Pledges Arthur Royston and Fred Mooney played basketball. Bill Standley, Bill Bishop, and H. A. Scott started for the baseball team.

At Ball State, Max Weaver and Brian Nowfel are number two and three men on the varsity tennis team. Mike Pianowski, Ron Campbell, and Dave Smith played varsity baseball. Sam Volland is a returning letter winner on the golf team. Roger Holder was a varsity trackman.

At Carroll, Jeff Rushton completed an undefeated season in singles tennis competition for the conference. Jim Ward also played on the team. Gary Heiber completed a season with the baseball team. Dave Briski, Carroll's only champion in the CCIW conference wrestling competition, completed an undefeated season and took the conference title for the 137-pound class. Dave Polczynski returns to the college football team along with Tom Neill as team manager.

At Cornell, Ira Grindlinger took first in the 50-yard butterfly and second in the individual medley. Frank Brown took first in the one-meter diving. Sig Ep took fourth over-all in the intramural swimming and diving championships.

At Culver-Stockton, Captain Larry Chaney, brother of the Cincinnati Reds' Darryl Chaney, led the Sig Eps on this year's Wildcat baseball team. Larry was Coach Bill Trumbo's starting catcher. Bill Scheffler, last year's rookie of the year, was at first base and John Warsaw and pledge Ron Floit played the outfield. Steve Walling, Al Crear, and pledge Joe Briscoe pitched for a successful team. Larry Chaney was an all-conference first team choice. Bill Scheffler and Steve Walling were second team picks.

Craig Ritz and Tony Halda were on Coach Alan Brent's swim team.

At Delaware, Sophomore Joe Shetzler rules Middle Atlantic Conference wrestling as heavyweight champion.

Four Sig Eps were on the varsity golf squad which emerged the MAC champs and created a berth in the finals in Utah. Jack Henriksen was a standout in tennis.

Glenn Hinton, Bob Buckley, and Joe Flickinger headed the varsity baseball squad toward the MAC championships. Hinton finished the season hitting well over .300 while Buckley and Flickinger were burning the base paths.

Joe Shetzler, Bob Morsch, Dave Smith, and Bill Suplee were standouts in track. John Haslebeck, Skip Shiflett, Robbie Schroeder, Joe Lee, Ted Haas, Regan Beck, and Jack Allen led the varsity lacrosse team to its best season ever.

At Drury, Dave Lea is on the Panther baseball team, while Lea, Jim Ball, and Rich Gillespie play varsity soccer.

At Evansville, sophomore centerfielder Jim Hostetler from Shipshewana finished the varsity baseball season with a .383 batting average which placed him among the top ten hitters in the Indiana Collegiate Conference.

At Illinois Tech, Co-captains of varsity swimming were Richard Peyton and Kurt Kofron. Two other regular members were Jack Hall and Brian Fox. The second semester, the team had a single captain: Kurt Kofron. In the coming academic year, Sig Ep Robert Buccolla will be co-captain. Buccolla is also the shortstop on the baseball varsity.

Jim Gagnard is on the golf team.

At Lamar Tech, Glen Edgerly was elected co-captain of football.

At Marshall, Jim Fantuzzo was named the most valuable player on the baseball team.

At Montana, Mike Acuff, Roger Nielson, Mike Houtonen, and Pat Schannon are varsity baseball players. The golf team which won the Big Sky championship included Glen Wysel, Mike Knaff, Dick Kuhl, and Doug Wolf.

At Ohio State, Rod Katzer is in the Sailing Club; Tom Cricui is captain of the pistol team and on the ROTC rifle team; Tach Berry, a member of the fencing team, has been named a University scholar-athlete.

At Rhode Island, track co-captain John Cozenza shattered the university record in the triple jump during a meet with Northeastern University.

At Richmond, Rawles Saeker, defensive end who helped the Spiders to the Tangerine Bowl after they took the Southern Conference championship last season, will be back at his position.

At Southeast Missouri State, Terry Coff captured first in the shotput and helped the Indians capture the MIAA Conference track title for the first time in 10 years.

All-Conference quarterback Greg Schroeder and All-Conference defensive end Jack Martin, along with Tim Luckett, Bo Pitt, Bob Hollingshed, Ken Joggerst, Bruce Nall, Steve Decker, and Bruce Hoffman hope to aid the Indians for an unprecedented third year MIAA Conference football championship.

At Stevens Tech, the baseball squad was strengthened by Sig Ep's threefold threat. Craig Naylor's curveball, Jim Olszewski's hustle in the infield and Ron Clayton's fearsome bat kept the heat on the opposition.

At Temple, Buck Mazer and Don Kurzinski were members of the varsity football team. Tom Wiczerak was a guard on Temple's N.I.T. championship team.

At Texas, Robbie Patman, junior from Texarkana, won the fraternity division 100-yard dash in the University of Texas intramural meet, then went on to place second in the over-all event in the All-University track and field meet.

David Chalk, a freshman from Dallas, was featured in the Scorecard section of Sports Illustrated after the University of Texas' regular right-fielder hit four home runs in a doubleheader against Rice University. In doing so he set a Texas school record and tied the Southwest Conference record for homers in one game.

Rightfielder Chalk, centerfielder Jack Miller, and Catcher Tommy Harmon were all Sig Ep starters on the SWC champion University of Texas baseball team that was ranked Number One in the nation most of the season. The season's record: 40-6.

At Wake Forest, varsity baseball was captained by Bill Heitman at catcher, while Tom Berry, second baseman, led the hitting with a .342. Juniors Craig Robinson and Jim Poole, and sophomores Jim Eschen and Jon Robinson will be returning for the 1970 season. For his outstanding play at shortstop while maintaining a .280 batting average, Craig Robinson was named to the all-ACC team. When pitcher Jim Poole (with a 4-2 record for the season) took the mound, Sig Eps held five of the nine starting berths. Jim Eschen played at both first and third base and batted .280.

At Washington, Clare Leifer, star center fielder for the Huskies, was a third round draft choice of the Oakland A's.

Doug McTavish and Doug Holmes are members of the varsity lightweight crew which went undefeated and posted the best time on the Pacific Coast.

At William and Mary, George Collins has been elected captain of William and Mary's varsity swimming team for a second year.

The wrestling team has elected chapter president Drew Bright and Doug Friedberger as captains.

NEW CHAPTERS IN THE MAKING

The Fraternity has 12 colonies in operation: St. Mary's (Tex.), Seton Hall, Morris Harvey, Tennessee Tech, University of Windsor (Canada), Madison (Va.), Marquette, Morehead State (Ky.), Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Defiance, Lam-buth, and Northern Illinois.

At St. Mary's University Colony, these officers were recently installed: John W. Walsh, president; Bill Robb, vice-president; Bill Niehoff, controller; Bob Sneddon, recorder; and John O'Toole, secretary.

Recently initiated: Thomas Collins, Philadelphia, Pa.; Patrick Dacy, Fort Worth; Ralph Domas, Baton Rouge, La.; Stephen Flores, Pueblo, Colo.; John Flume, San Antonio; William Kennedy, Kennedy; John King, Saratoga rings, N.Y.; Paul Kozlowicz, Wauwatosa, Wis.; Lucian LaBarba, Dallas; Anthony LaLumia, Dal-las; Robert Schmidt, San Antonio; Robert Sned-dor, Pueblo, Colo., and John P. Walsh, Adelphi, Md.

Sig Eps won the Intramural Trophy by 55 points. Don Mach, athletic chairman, received the trophy for most points earned by an individual. The Colony softball team won the championship game in 11 innings on the strength of Steve Flores' pitching and John Kish's hitting.

Fritz Cotttron poses in front of new home of Colorado Mines chapter. The ore-car is symbolic of the profession of mining.

John O'Toole, Colony secretary, was elected IFC secretary. David Dacy was chosen Sig Ep of the year. David served the Colony as vice-presi-dent and president was IFC president. Miss Carol DeMarco was chosen Sig Ep Sweetheart.

John W. Walsh and John J. O'Toole will repre-sent the Texas Theta Colony at the Grand Chap-ter Academy in Dallas this summer.

Commissioned as second lieutenants: Fred Cappadona, Phil Earnster, William Hickey, and Pete Reidel. Those attending ROTC summer camp are: Lynn Barnett, Tom Braniff, Tony Irwin, Bill Robb, and John W. Walsh.

Paul Awtry received a commission in the Ma-rine Corps and is in Vietnam.

—JOHN J. O'TOOLE

The pledge period of the Virginia Polytech-nic Institute Sigma Epsilon Colony officially began on the evening of April 21. The oath was administered to 16 brothers by Laurence C. At-kins of Headquarters.

Pledged were: Richard Busick, Rick Charter, Robert Coats, John Cochran, Bill Connor, John Dickinson, Mike Farley, Lex Felker, Andy Fox, Cullen Hackler, Ron Haulsee, Mike Haynes, Larry McClung, Jim Mink, David Tibbs, and Ed-ward Yuhasz. Pledge education is being directed by the brothers of Washington and Lee.

The pledges are working with children at nearby Christiansburg Community Center, and are planning to make repairs on the Community Cen-ter building. Plans are being made for a tutoring service at the Center. The brothers have under-taken the twice-weekly delivery of the V.P.I. newspaper to each dormitory.

RED DOOR NOTES

Alabama Sig Eps have installed air-condition-ers on the third floor in the chapter house to en-able the executive officers to perform their duties more comfortably. The Mothers' Club has donated some new items for the living area.

Atlantic Christian Sig Eps purchased two new crystal chandeliers for the chapter room and TV room and a lantern for the entrance hall. The house was rewired and new bathroom facilities in-stalled.

At Ball State, the library was paneled and some furniture purchased. The active chapter room and multi-purpose room were painted by the pledges.

Belmont Abbey Sig Eps have installed new ladies' and men's restrooms with shower and hot and cold running water, a fire place in the lounge, new furniture, and improvements to the kitchen. They have repainted the inside of the house and put a tile floor in the chapter room.

As their project, the pledges have installed a marker to the right of the entrance of the house. The letters $\Sigma \Phi E$ are carved from wood and are situated between two brick towers, one three feet tall and the other a foot and a half tall. These towers are about five feet apart. Attached to a pole projecting upwards from the tallest tower is the letter Σ followed by Φ and E on a descending slant and attached to the lower tower. The bricks are red in color and the wood is redwood. The structure is planted in cement.

Bowling Green Sig Eps made several improvements with the aid of their alumni board. They purchased a new stereo with an AM-FM receiver, a new set of Encyclopaedia Britannica, and an adding machine for office use.

The Bradley brothers have completed their new landscaping of the front yard. Through gifts of several Peoria businesses they were able to secure railroad ties, evergreens, and gravel for the project. New furniture and beds are being supplied by the alumni.

Carroll Sig Eps received a stereo component set for the living room as a gift in memory of Gary Week's mother.

The seniors contributed money toward the new pool table in the recreation room as their senior gift. In addition, part of the recreation room has been carpeted, a gift of former Carroll President and Mrs. Steele.

The drive and parking area have been asphalted by the alumni.

New book shelves were put up in the chapter library and a new national chapter map.

Central Michigan Sig Eps will return to a new $300,000, 56-man house in the fall of 1969. The three-story house will consist of four-man suites, each with own kitchen, living room, dining room, two bedrooms, and full bath. Complex includes a four-thousand square foot recreation room with stage, snack bar, and stereo system; tennis courts; swimming pool; and basketball courts.

This will be a big step in Central Michigan University's housing row for fraternities and sororities.

Detroit Sig Eps formed a Housing Committee which rented a run-down store building a few blocks from the campus. This has been converted into a modern meeting and recreation center. The chapter will now be able to welcome visiting brothers to the campus. Though houses are a proven moral asset for fraternities, in the opinion of Michigan Delta, the administration has prohibited them.

Drake pledges collaborated with the alumni in remodeling the downstairs bathroom. The alumni split costs with the chapter for two new shower stalls, a toilet stool, and work on the plumbing. Fall pledges put down new tile, a wall around the showers, and paint.

Over spring break the alumni corporation installed an asphalt parking lot.

Drury pledges paneled and remodeled the second and third floors.

East Carolina Sig Eps renovated their basement as a second party room and lounge. Furniture, acoustical ceiling, and a bar were added while the walls were decorated with the fraternity crest, Greek letters, and badge.

Fort Hays State Sig Eps have authorized work on a new $60,000 addition to the home which is in progress. It will be ready for occupancy next fall.

At Georgia, remodeling plans for the house at 624 South Millidge Ave. call for a new party room, den, tv room, study hall, kitchen, and outside patio and grill. Each room will have new furniture and carpets. Central air-conditioning and heating will be installed.

Ferris State Sig Eps spread concrete for their new 50-car parking area at new lodge.

Illinois Sig Eps converted their coal-fed boiler to gas, installed laundry cleaning facilities, and remodeled the kitchen with paneling. A loan of $15,000 has been arranged to remodel the first floor.

Illinois Tech Sig Eps installed a red and purple stained-glass front door. A row of hedges has been planted around the front of the house. A new piano for the living room is the gift of the Mothers' Club.

At Indiana, the Parents' Club had the TV room remodeled, including a new tile ceiling and lighting fixtures. New carpeting is being laid in all the hallways.

Lehigh Sig Eps are having new carpeting laid in the living room and card room. The old carpeting is being placed in the president's suite and the chapter room.

Louisiana State Sig Eps have installed wall-to-wall carpeting and new draperies in the living room. The dining room has been remodeled. Shutters were hung on the front of the house and the front yard was relandscaped.

At Maryland, new furniture has been purchased for the living room. The basement has been transformed into a paneled party room. The exterior of the house is being painted and plans are to asphalt the dirt lot.

Miami (Fla.) brothers during Easter break worked on the house. Rooms were painted, paneled, and cleaned up. The living room was paneled and the reception room painted.

At Miami (Fla.), the chapter has purchased new indoor-outdoor carpeting for the patio area. The brothers' room, patio, and library were paneled. "All we need now are some books for the library," writes reporter Doug Voss.

Michigan State Sig Eps gave their house a coat of paint during the summer. Gray with white trim was chosen to match the traditional red door.

At Michigan State, the Mothers' Club presented a deep-fat fryer and a vacuum cleaner. New carpeting has been installed on the second and third floors.

At Missouri-Rolla, a new house is on the drawing board for a $300,000, 80-man house to be built on the present site. Construction is to be completed for the 1971 school year.

Montana Sig Eps have remodeled the officers' quarters and installed new furniture and a gold rug with attractive wallpaper.

The fall pledge class at North Carolina paneled the bar area and installed a lighting system behind the bar. A brick sidewalk which runs the length of the house was laid. Plans for fall include new furniture for the parlor and TV room, and renovation of the chapter room.

Oregon State alumni presented the chapter with two new paved parking lots last fall. The chapter is working to get new living-room furniture, and is hoping the alumni will once again show their generosity. The mothers recently gave the chapter a new chapter room floor and are also helping with the renovation of the living room.

Rensselaer Sig Eps have started construction on a connecting passageway between their two houses. In conjunction with this project the party room has been expanded, a workshop built, and the game room completely refurbished.

Rutgers Sig Eps have been granted a loan for a new house which will replace the present house on the same lot. The loan granted is $240,000. Work will be started soon.

San Diego State Sig Eps have acquired a new rug for the chapter room, a gift from the mothers' club and the sweethearts. A room divider was built for the chapter room by Joe Dendy. New furniture was also acquired.

San Jose State Sig Eps renovated their house for the spring by painting the exterior and interior. The brothers have remodeled the recreation room. New items include a rug and television.

At Southeast Missouri State, a new sports chest for sports equipment has been donated by Doug Beerman's father.

Southern Mississippi Sig Eps have begun building a library for the house. A pool table and an inlaid coffee table have been purchased.

Southwest Missouri State Sig Eps have remodeled four bedrooms, painted the basement and front porch. All first floor woodwork has been repainted in addition to the ceilings in the television room and housemother's quarters. Plans also include carpeting the television room and hallway, and finishing the paneling in the basement. Several brothers are in the process of leveling the backyard in order to reseed it for next fall.

Toledo Sig Eps have purchased new red carpeting and had all furniture re-upholstered. Plans are being made for a complete face-lifting of the house.

At Utah, the chapter's mothers' and wives' Club gave a new color TV set to the chapter during the Founders' Day reunion.

Valdosta State Sig Eps have become the first fraternity to purchase a house. It is a two-story brick house containing seven bedrooms, six baths, a kitchen, dining room, living room, a house-length front porch, and an enclosed back porch holding refrigeration units. One bedroom downstairs with adjoining bath is provided for the housemother. It is planned to remodel the triple garage into a chapter room and additional bedrooms. There is living space for 24 men.

Valparaiso Sig Eps have a new house, a three-story structure which will house 50 brothers and a housemother, which they expect to occupy in October. Thus the chapter will move from the second oldest brick building in Valparaiso to the newest.

At Washington State, during Christmas vacation, the temperature dipped to a state record low of 50 degrees below zero. One of the water pipes in the kitchen burst and flooded the kitchen, President's room, and living room. The moisture warped and buckled the hardwood flooring in the living room after ruining the carpet, and then cracked and broke the tile in the hall and the President's room. In addition, it leaked through the flooring and warped the wall paneling in the basement and the ceiling in the Chapter and Senior rooms.

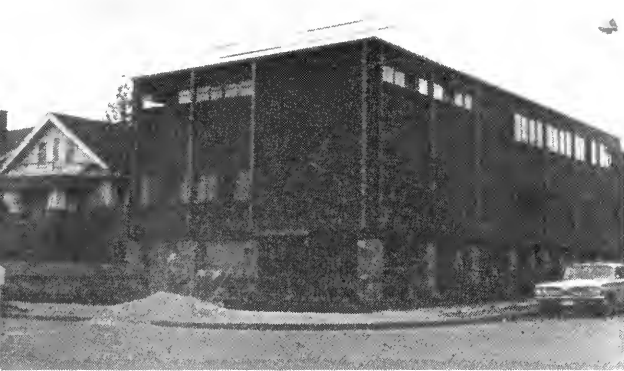

The damage has been repaired at a cost of $2,500. New wall-to-wall indoor-outdoor carpeting has been installed in the foyer and reading room, while wall-to-wall, deep pile carpeting has been laid in the living room.

West Virginia Tech Sig Eps have acquired a new living room carpet and furniture. The public areas of the house have been painted.

Western Kentucky Sig Eps are constructing the first fraternity house to be built on that campus. The $80,000 colonial style building is located on a one-half acre lot and will house 36 men in two-man rooms. The kitchen, living room, foyer, housemother's apartment and rooms for 10 men will be on the first floor. The upstairs space will be devoted to facilities for 26 men. An additional two-story wing will be built onto the south side of the house in April. The first floor will contain a 28-by-28 foot dining room and the second floor will include four more bedrooms.

Early last year, NASA engineer R. R. Brookshire, father of one of the brothers, drew plans for the house. After discussing the drawings with local Sig Eps and their alumni board, Brookshire decided to build the house with his funds and let the brothers reimburse him through a rent-lease agreement.

Construction was slated to start last summer, but a zoning controversy ensued when area residents gained an injunction to stop construction. The injunction was later dropped, but more problems followed. The Water, Sewer and Sanitation Commission then held up construction until enough funds could be raised for an extension of existing sewerage facilities. These funds were finally raised through the aid of Charles McDonough, a local businessman and a member of the fraternity's alumni board.

Construction was resumed before Christmas, but progress was slow until Brookshire returned to Bowling Green from his home in Huntsville, Ala. Under his urging and guidance the house began to take shape during the Christmas holidays. The brothers did much of the work themselves between classes and on weekends.

William and Mary Sig Eps have finished decorating a new TV room which includes a brick bar. Brothers paneled the room in walnut and put in tile around the bar. An indoor-outdoor rug was purchased.

CHAPTER ACCOMPLISHMENT AN UNENDING SUCCESS STORY

At Alabama, Ralph McMurphy is in Phi Alpha Theta and a research assistant in the Department of History. He has served the fraternity as steward, corresponding secretary, vice-president, and controller.

Jim Parker is in Gamma Theta Upsilon. Ralph McMurphy, Woody McMurphy, and Ted Lester made the Dean's List.

At Arizona, John Gemmil finished a national speaking tour as national vice-president of Future Farmers of America. Chuck Eaton heads the I.Q. Invitational Committee which presents a campus television show similar to the G.E. College Bowl.

At Arkansas State John Frew and Van Ellis were named to Who's Who. Pledges Curt Barnett and Dwight Galloway were initiated by Phi Eta Sigma. Ronny Becker was named editor of the yearbook, The Indian. Rob Bowers was named Mr. St. Nick by the Associated Women Students at their annual Christmas dance.

Arkansas State Sig Eps won first in intramural cross country, second in football and basketball, and swept the intramural points in the annual Sig Ep bowling tournament.

Ball State Sig Eps are participating in Spring Sing, Greek Variety Show, Bike-A-Thon, and spring intramurals. Having already won intramural titles in football, cross-country, and basketball, the Sig Eps lead the race for the all-sports trophy.

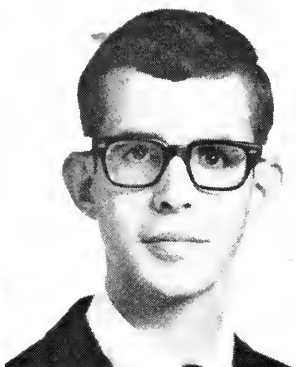

Belmont Abbey Sig Eps have again won the campus scholarship award. No other fraternity has ever won it.

At Bowling Green, Rick Harris has received the Northwestern Ohio Newspaper Association Scholarship. Rick is assistant business manager of the BC News, campus newspaper. He also writes for the feature and sports pages. Recently initiated as the chapter's 500th member, Rick is assistant social chairman and a member of the pledge board.

On the staff of the all-Greek newspaper recently launched, Tom Ramage is editor; Alex Burrows, photo editor; Kevin Haley, issue editor; and Frank Weldele, head of advertising.

At Bradley, Marv Marshall, chapter president, was appointed cadet commander of AFROTC. Also serving as officers are Art Link, Ted LeBedz, and Bill Ward.

Pete Erlinder, all-school president, and John Hanks, all-school senator, are running for reelection. Bob Boll is on the School Supreme Court.

Rick Serczyk is a Scout reporter and John Hanks and Ray Anderson are on the control board of campus radio, WRBU.

At Carroll, Ed Olson, junior, was elected president of the Student Senate. Also elected to this body were Phil Foxgrover and Gary Buer-satte.

At Central Missouri State, Bill Anderson is Supreme Court chief justice. Ray Young is a justice on the court. Garnett Joseph is sports editor for The Student, campus publication.

Colorado Sig Ep senior Geoffrey T. Galbraith is commander of the cadet group. He has received the AFROTC Vice Commandant's Award for demonstration of leadership potential, initiative, and dependability. A pre-med major, Geoff has been active in Silver and Gold, Phi Epsilon Phi, Sabers, Sophomore Class Council, and the Arnold Air Society.

Steve Milo has served as president pro tempore of the Freshman Class, vice-president of the Sophomore Class, and is a member of Phi Epsilon Phi. He is chapter vice-president.

Colorado freshman Jeff Smith has been elected Sophomore Class president.

Steve Ehrlich has brought himself many honors in four years. By his junior year he had been a member of Silver and Gold, Phi Epsilon Phi, the freshman and sophomore class honoraries, a Tau Beta Pi honor student, twice recipient of the IFC 4.0 award, and a finalist in the Outstanding Freshman Engineering Student competition. His 3.75 grade point average in engineering physics helped his election to Sigma Tau and Sigma Pi Sigma. As a senior he is IFC head justice and a member of Sabres.

Colorado Mines Sig Eps are rated No. 1 scholastically with a 2.458 cumulative average. Ten brothers made better than a 3.00 to place the chapter first of six fraternities.

In Winter Carnival, held at Lake Eldora ski area, Sig Eps placed three men in the top six places in both the slalom and giant slalom races to bring home the intramural skiing title. Skiing for the house were Bob Crewdson, Gary Garlough, Charlie McNiel, Dave Weller, and Trey Womack.

Rich Liconti is president of the Sophomore Class.

Colorado State U. Sig Eps took intramural firsts in basketball, swimming, wrestling, tennis, and badminton, and seconds in football and cageball.

The chapter's 2.8 gpa surpassed the University men's and fraternity averages and gave Sig Ep fourth place among 20 fraternities.

Jim Starr was elected by the student body as university vice-president of community affairs. Ed Wekesser is a member of Center Board and Andy Olson, representative of Summer Orientation Program.

At Connecticut, Bob Shaw won the annual bicycle race around Mirror Lake. John Santucci, Denver Sig Eps were recognized for their improvement and performance by the presentation of the Theta Chi General Excellence Award at the IFC Spring Banquet. Competition is among 16 social and professional fraternities, where points are based on house scholarship, extracurricular activities among members, and team standings in intramural sports.

Sig Eps on May Days, the annual Spring Festival, following the theme, "Bubble Up to Broadway," elaborated on the Beatles' "Yellow Submarine" and placed fourth in skit with a satire on love, war, and hippies, second in Twilight Sing, and second in booth construction (with what else but a yellow submarine), to place second over-all against 10 other Greek and independent groups.

Joe Lemaire and Tom Cain walked off with the honors at recent May Days Festivities. Tom was honored with membership in Omicron Delta Kappa for his fraternal (president-secretary) and campus (class vice-president for two years) leadership and overall gpa of 3.0. out of 4.0. in the D.U. Scholars Program. Joe was chosen as a Pioneer of '69 by the D.U. yearbook, named to represent D.U. in Who's Who and elected "outstanding senior man on campus" by his classmates. He is president of Tau Beta Pi, and a member of Omicron Delta Kappa and American Society of Mechanical Engineers. Past posts include Student Senator, vice-president of the engineering commission, and managing and head editor of the Denver Engineer magazine. Other honors include the Scott Key and essay and formal presentation awards in ASME.

Detroit Sig Eps finished second in intramurals with firsts in bowling, wrestling, and volleyball and seconds in football and basketball. Jim Rademacher won the badminton championship. Jack Kosiorek is Freshman Orientation chairman for the incoming class.

East Carolina pledges, competing against other fraternity pledge classes, was awarded the Greek Games trophy during IFC week. Gary Phipps, past IFC president, was awarded the Outstanding Greek trophy.

Terry Huffman, chapter president, succeeded Gary Phipps, past chapter president, as group commander of AFROTC.

Evansville Sig Eps won the IFC Scholarship Trophy for the first time, with a 2.52 chapter average on a 4.0 system, the only fraternity to rank above the all-men's average.

Steve Creekbaum is president of student government; as vice-president he rewrote the constitution. Jim Bacus is IFC president as well as president of Senior Class. Fred Arensman, Dean's List scholar, is Junior Class president.

Tim Lewis and Wayne Breunig are on the all-campus judicial board. Dave Elliott is Blue Key vice-president.

At Florida, Charles Harris has been elected vice-president of the student body. A senior political science major, he is in Blue Key and Phi Beta Kappa.

Jack Yant received a plaque during halftime of the annual Orange-Blue spring football game when he defeated All-American and Heisman Trophy winner Steve Spurrier in a kicking contest sponsored by the Athletic Department.

At Georgia, Larry Elliot was IFC representative, a member of Scabbard and Blade, and brigade sergeant major in advanced ROTC. He made the Dean's List twice. Stepehn Smith ranked in the top 5 per cent of the Freshman Class with a 3.79 cumulative gpa. He was elected to Phi Eta Sigma, Student Senate, Freshman Men's Council, and was a first lieutenant in AFROTC. John Taylor, chapter president, also was a Dean's List Student, IFC representative, member of the Student Senate, and Blue Key. He was elected president of Omicron Delta Kappa. John Elder, chapter president for the coming term, was in IFC and on Freshman Men's Council. A member of Alpha Epsilon Delta, he earned a 3.2 gpa.

At Illinois, former president Kim Webster is a member of Chi Epsilon. Former vice-president Tom Gaikowski is in Alpha Kappa Psi and Craig Brubaker is in Phi Eta Sigma. Greg Thies is junior manager of the yearbook business staff, and Joe Wemlinger, Mark Addis, and Rick Kellen are sophomore managers.

Illinois Tech Sig Eps took first in the annual IFC Pageant. Faculty members judged the plays which were staged in the campus Auditorium.

Chapter President Valentine Lynch has been elected IFC president.

Richard Hassler is program chairman for School Union Board. Mark Fredrick is editor of the campus Air Force newspaper. Jack Sowchin was named Arnold Air Force commander.

Illinois Tech Sig Eps reached the finals in IFC football, basketball, softball, and ping-pong.

At Johns Hopkins, the intramural team placed second in softball and lacrosse.

Lamar Tech Sig Eps took first in fraternity basketball, softball, and became co-champs in football. They were second in scholastics for the fall semester and second in the fraternity All-Sports race. They won first in the Delta Zeta Songfest and second in Alpha Delta Pi Play Day. Their Homecoming float was judged the best over-all.

Ken Bernard is IFC president and Tommy Alardyce is vice-president of Senior Class. Ronny Whitehead is president of Junior Class and Randy Morgan is vice-president. Robert Bean was elected Freshman Class favorite and sophomore president. Vincent Luparello was elected cheerleader and Eddie Bernard was named one of three outstanding students. Mike Davis, Tim Hickey, David Templet, Joe Parigi, and Mike McNamara are in Student Senate.

Marshall Sig Eps were named the most outstanding fraternity for the year. The chapter won this honor on points awarded for service projects, scholarship, honorary members, and the Greek Games. They were presented an outstanding 51" trophy by IFC.

Sig Eps placed second in Mother's Day Sing.

Memphis State Sig Eps for the second time in three years received the Sigma Chi traveling trophy for the most improved scholarship; 14 men made a 3.0 or better for the semester.

At Michigan State, Ted Dziak was chosen as a member of Excalibur, senior men's honorary. Robert Loerke was elected to Blue Key. John Liskey was elected IFC president.

At Montana, Ben Briscoe has been elected student body president. He follows Ed Leary. Fred Traber is chairman for the Student Ambassador Program. Scott Dahmar is Student Affairs Commissioner, and Ron Mehrens is athletics commissioner and IFC president. Neil Miller is IFC president. Craig Webb has been elected sophomore delegate to Central Board. Frank Spencer is in charge of the committee to promote the 19-year-old vote in Montana. Ben Briscoe and Frank Spencer were selected for Silent Sentinel, which is a group of 12 outstanding senior men.

Montana Alpha's Basketball team won the fraternity league championship; the golf team won the school championship for the second year. Rod Dahl is university singles horseshoes champion.

North Carolina pledges rose to the challenge during competition with 22 other pledge classes in Greek Week games this past spring. They were first in grades with a 3.058 average, second in the chariot race, and among the leaders in raising funds for charity in the Ugly Man on Campus contest.

North Carolina State Sig Eps climaxed the 1968-69 academic year by capturing the fraternity intramural championship. Over the past nine years State Sig Eps have been no less than third place over-all, but this year proved to be the finest in the chapter's history.

Two school intramural records were broken: (1) Largest number of points ever scored in a single season, and (2) largest number of championships won in a single season.

The chapter scored 1394 points, with the closest challenging fraternity 361 points behind, and won six out of 12 league championships. The championships were won in track, handball, volleyball, bowling, table tennis, and softball.

Doug Curtis was named Fraternity Most Valuable Player (second year in a row), Volleyball Most Valuable Player, and he was elected to the all-campus volleyball team. Gary Harris received the Softball Most Valuable Player award. Jim McComas won the individual handball championship. Jerry McSwain was also elected to the all-campus volleyball Team and selected as team captain.

The championship was won by the entire brotherhood. Every member participated in some capacity, expressing eagerness, ambition, and house unity.

Ohio Sig Eps placed second runner-up in the competition for the George Starr Lasher Award as the most improved chapter on campus.

Chuck Herzer is in Omicron Delta Kappa and Phi Beta Kappa. Mike Steiner is in Phi Gamma Mu.

At Ohio State, John Conkle has been appointed Director of Student Elections. Jim Brenneman, Rod Katzer, and Ken Misener have been appointed to the Ohio Union Activities staff.

Steve Morgan has been appointed editorial and sports editor of the Ohio State Lantern; Tom Ellis is Lantern photographer in the area of Greek relations and is a photographer for the Mako, yearbook.

Doug Wemmer has been appointed to the Arts College Council. Mike Tranovich is on the Biological Student Council; Tom Cribbs is on Engineers' Council; Mike Tranovich and Lou Tosi are on the Faculty Senate; Steve Morgan and Bob Stratman have been elected president and vice-president, respectively, of Midshipman Council which is the student governing body of Naval ROTC.

Ed Breyfogle is vice-president of the Young Democrats. John Conkle is editor of the NROTC Seawolf. David Stultz is in the Ohio State marching band and the ROTC marching band.

Honor societies have elected: Ken Davis, Sphinx; Dennis Terry and Jeff Smith, Bucket and Dipper; Mike Tranovich and Doug Wemmer, Alpha Epsilon Delta; Phil Hopper, Phi Eta Sigma; Jack Musgrave, Memorial Honor Guard; Steve Morgan and Bob Stratman, Anchor and Chain; Steve Morgan, Scabbard and Blade.

Bob Williams and Mike Roberts led their intramural hockey team to the league championship.

At Ohio Wesleyan, John Garmhausen and Bill Hopper were appointed Justices on Men's Court, John is also business manager for the yearbook, Le Bijou.

The Young Republicans Club elected Mike Murphy as president. During the last blood drive, Rich Cunningham became a Red Cross Gallon Donor. Ken Godsey was initiated into Phi Beta Kappa.

Seven members will serve as camp counselors for the incoming Freshman Class.

Oshkosh Sig Eps won the President's Cup in Winter Carnival, placed third in Songfest, second in Leggie Contest, and first in the Blood Drive. Bill Blancy was selected as a co-chairman for the 1969 Homecoming Week activities. Lynn Edwards, Phi Mu, was chosen chapter sweetheart in March and reigned at the annual spring formal and Sweetheart Dance at Wisconsin Dells.

At Penn State, first place in the Greek Week bridge tournament was won by Jack Vida, Joe Sisson, Carl Ziegler, and Bruce Miehle.

In the Spring Week competition, Sig Eps, with Delta Zeta, won first in the "television division" for their production of Robinhood.

Rhode Island Sig Eps won league championships in several sports and the third-place trophy in the Greek Week games.

Robert Czekanski has been elected internal vice-president of the IFC while John Szalkowski is secretary of the IFC forum. Robert Oakes and John McKee hold seats in student senate.

Rhode Island Sig Eps in Tau Beta Pi include Dave Newman, Chapter president Erich Balzer, and Jan Arrowood. Paul Cofoni and Pete Peduzzi are in Phi Mu Epsilon.

At Richmond, Al Reid and Don Stewart, both rising junior cadets, have been awarded scholarships by the Department of the Army.

At South Florida, Bob Thomson, an affiliate from the Morningside chapter, was chosen as Outstanding Greek of the Year by a joint committee of IFC and Panhellenic. He has accepted a job with General Mills at Fort Myers.

Southern California Sig Eps with the Golden Hearts won first at the annual S.C. Songfest held in the Hollywood Bowl.

New officers of chapter at Alabama appear to be optimistic about the future.

Past chapter president Tom Casacky has been appointed to the interfraternity judicial council.

At Stevens Tech, Paul Boissonneault is Senior Class secretary, Ray Nalepa is Junior Class vice-president and Bob Markisello is Sophomore Class president. Paul has previously been a class officer and is chapter secretary. Ray has also been a class officer before, is active on the Student Council and serves as Sig Ep chaplain.

Paul Kleinhans has been elected chairman of the Stevens chapter of the ASME. Peter Schaub will serve with him as vice-chairman.

At Temple, Buck Mazer was elected president of the Fraternity Presidents' Council.

Sig Eps joined with Alpha Sigma Alpha to win second in the Homecoming float competition.

At Tennessee, Sam Bass, cadet colonel in ROTC, was named Most Outstanding Senior Cadet and presented with an engraved saber.

Tennessee Wesleyan Sig Eps at Honors Day ceremonies on May 30 were named Fraternity of the Year. They had received the same honor the previous year.

This moment was made possible, in part at least, by the great fall rush which netted the largest pledge class on campus—43 men.

The chapter won trophies in football, basketball, softball, and tennis. Also the Athlete of the Year trophy was won by a brother.

The chapter placed first in Skit Night during Greek Weekend, second in All-Sing, first in community service, and second in scholarship.

At Valparaiso, Dave Gawenda was named editor of the Beacon, the yearbook.

Youngstown Sig Eps won the All-Events Trophy due to top effort of multi-faceted personnel. The chapter took first in baseball and football and second in basketball and bowling.

All-American diver Dale Welk led the Y.S.U. swim team to many victories for his head coach, Ralph Johnson, an alumnus of this chapter.

Dennis Steinbeck is a leading scorer as well as a defensive stalwart on the basketball team.

In varsity football Y.S.U. boasts four first-stringers in George Gluvna, Terry Durko, Cole Pentz, and Jim Deering.

The Sig Eps were barely nosed out of a first in the scholastic achievement awards.

The chapter also turned in a performance that earned second place in the Greek Sing, the competition song being "The Shadow of Your Smile."

In the fields of rush and pledge, over 200 rush-ees were lured to the red doors; twice as many as the closest fraternity. Ohio Mu took a class of 33 pledges and after an excellent, progressive, and constructive pledge program headed by Bruce Goff, installed 33 very promising brothers.

♥ TIME OUT FOR HUMANITY

Alabama Sig Eps have decided to adopt an orphan somewhere in Southeast Asia in memory of the late brother of our chapter president, Gene Boles, who was killed recently while aiding homeless children in South Vietnam.

Bradley, Al Cobetto was chosen Best Campus Carnival Clown and appeared on the Captain Jinks TV show with the house's duck, Daffy. The Carnival raised over $9,000 for charity in Peoria.

Mark Schulz has been helping the National Highway Safety Bureau's 16-step safety plan in Peoria.

Illinois Sig Eps canvassed for the annual Sig Ep Heart Fund and collected $287.

Illinois Tech Sig Eps were second in the IFC fund-raising effort for the American Cancer Society.

Maryland Sig Eps staged the annual campus Food Drive, originally an IFC project. Donations went to the Salvation Army.

Thirty-three new initiates at Youngstown State where manpower is its own reward.

Memphis State Sig Eps placed first in IFC collection for LeBonheur Children's Hospital. The brothers also contributed to the success of the Cancer Fund drive.

Michigan Tech Sig Eps sponsored the third annual Beauty and Beast Contest in which the 22 competing organizations raised $1,600 for the Heart Fund.

Oshkosh Sig Eps captured first in the Red Cross blood drive with the highest percentage of participants. They also placed second in an all-campus contest for the March of Dimes.

Rensselaer Sig Eps, in their second annual Heart Fund Drive, collected over $1,100 for the county organization. Cruising the streets of Albany and Troy in donated pick up trucks, they managed to cajole, beg, or roll unsuspecting shoppers for donations.

In conjunction with the administration of the school they also sponsored "Technology Day" for local high school pupils. Over 300 students attended the day's activities which centered on the role of technology in the day-by-day affairs of the world.

Rhode Island Sig Eps received state-wide recognition during their litter campaign named "Project Clean Sweep." Led by project chairman Robert Czekanski, the brothers gained the support of several private companies which donated materials as well as the support of the State Department of Public Works and the personal congratulations of state governor Frank Licht.

To hold the litter that was to be collected during the day long campaign, members and pledges constructed a huge litter barrel on the state house steps. Following a congratulatory speech by Governor Licht, the 87-man house collected litter and misplaced trash in numerous areas of Providence. Throughout the day, Rhode Island Sig Eps received television coverage as they worked their way through the city.

Utah Sig Eps sent their Easter bunny on his annual trip to a school for underprivileged children, where he handed out candy and gifts. The East Carolina Sig Eps help the Heart Fund.

Florida Sig Eps, including Carl Cox (with thermometer) donated 125 pints of blood to the IFC Blood Drive over two-week period.

chapter is also sponsoring a needy child at a summer camp in the Utah mountains.

Wake Forest Sig Eps conducted a two-day campaign at a local shopping center for the Forsyth County Heart Fund, receiving donations totaling over $320. The Winston-Salem mayor and several varsity basketball players participated in the drive.

MOM & COMPANY HELP THE HEART

At Central Missouri State, Mrs. Hazel West comes to Missouri Theta as housemother, succeeding Mrs. Blanche Haynes who served the chapter faithfully for two years.

At Culver-Stockton, Mrs. Marie M. Dunkin, housemother, participated in the 26-mile intramural walking marathon thereby receiving coverage on local tv, the press bureau, and newspapers all over the nation. She received a letter of congratulations from President Nixon. She is 72.

At East Carolina, the Ann "Mom" Harris Cup for best pledge went to Skip Dougherty and for best brother to Archie Harris.

At George Washington, Mrs. Snead, honorary housemother, catered the chapter's reception for Thomas Eagleton, Senator from Missouri.

At Maine, Elsie P. Appleby, known as Mrs. A., has left the housemother's position after three years of service.

At Miami, Mom Winn's door is always open. She is always willing to help.

At Oklahoma, Mrs. "Tomi" Lucas has completed her first year as housemother. Mom has spent this past year bringing a welcome touch of beauty to the house through her flower arrangements.

She is a director-at-large of the national executive board of the National Rose Society and hybridizes and tests roses for nurseries across the country. "Tomi," as she is known to all her friends, was the person most responsible for getting a rose named for the state of Oklahoma in 1964.

Mom travels quite extensively through Europe as a judge of international flower shows and last summer she went to England to judge a championship flower show with entries from all over the world.

Governor Frank Licht congratulates Rhode Island chapter on anti-litter campaign.

Southern Mississippi Sig Eps will have a new housemother in the fall—Wilma Johnston of Picayune, Miss., who has retired as dean of women at Perkinson Junior College.

TRADITIONS AND PARTIES

Alabama Sig Eps at their Queen of Hearts Ball chose Caroline Massey, Delta Delta Delta, as Queen of Hearts. The Ball was held at the Ramada Inn with alumni, parents, and all the brothers present. The spring Devil's Party attracted a record number of partygoers.

Arkansas State Sig Eps held a reception for West Virginia Tech housemother Mrs. Ethel Samuels with Gene Blanc in front of charter.

Grand President and Mrs. J. E. Zollinger on March 2. Alumni, parents, and college officials attended.

At the spring rush party, awards were given for the following: Best big brother, Jimmy Hall; best pledge, Ralph Hall; best pledge grade, Mark Wilson, 3.33, most improved grades, Dick Crampton; and highest grade average, Jimmy Norris.

Chapter Sweetheart Harriette Wise, Phi Mu, was honored with a drop-in for her sorority sisters. The spring pledge class held a drop-in for all new sorority pledges on March 9.

Atlantic Christian Sig Eps held their annual Valentine's semiformal at the house. On March 21, the ballroom of the Holiday Inn was the setting for Spring Formal. Alumni joined the active brothers for a banquet and party on April 26 for the local founders' day.

On March 20, the Sig Eps serenaded the women's halls and sorority houses.

Bradley Sig Eps crowned Jane Bandy, Delta Zeta, as Sweetheart at the Queen of Hearts ball. Marilyn Kavale, past Queen of Hearts, presented the house with a new stereo and gave awards to the Girls of the Golden Heart.

Sig Eps held their Annual Sack Party this spring at a local Gun Club. Dates wore small bur-lap sacks and a prize was awarded to the best-looking couple. A band provided music and a full-length movie was shown. Paul Leader and Ray Anderson were the winning team in the pig-catching contest.

On the upcoming Mom's Day, the chapter will hold a banquet for the parents and families of the brothers. The Moms' and Wives' Club will hold an open house to raise funds.

Also scheduled this spring is the Little Brother Weekend, in which younger brothers will spend the weekend in the chapter house and participate in many of the usual weekend activities. Athletic events and special activities will be set up for them.

At Bucknell, Ann Marie Conway was named Sweetheart at the annual pledge formal.

Buffalo Sig Eps held their annual Parents' Day Weekend and Queen of Hearts Dance on March 15, with more than 30 sets of parents on hand. Sue Needman was crowned queen.

Central Missouri State Sig Eps hosted 160 sorority pledges at their first annual Pledge Tea January 26. Actives, pledges, and members of the Wives' Club led their guests on a tour of the house and presented each girl with a flower. Sororities represented were Alpha Gamma Delta, Alpha Xi Delta, Alpha Sigma Alpha, Alpha Sigma Tau, Alpha Omicron Pi, Delta Zeta, Sigma Kappa, and Sigma Sigma Sigma.

At Colorado State U., the Casino Party featuring the Golden Hearts once again served its double role as a rushing function as well as fun entertainment for all.

The much anticipated Ski-Weekend, also sponsored by the Golden Hearts, occupied the weekend of February 22 and 23.

Valentine's Day and its traditions were honored at the V-D Ball held February 14.

To promote Greek relations, a Friday afternoon function was held with Alpha Tau Omega at the Pizza Hut. A Sig Ep-Kappa Kappa Gamma party was held February 8 at the Merry-Ax.

Cornell Sig Eps chose Carol Cutten from Elmira College as their Sweetheart Queen on Spring Weekend.

Delaware Sig Eps at their annual Spring Formal on May 7. Chose Toni Funk as Sweetheart. Milt Prettyman and Nick DelCampo were named the Outstanding Sig Eps while Bill Armstrong was named outstanding pledge.

Denver Sig Eps crowned Suzanne Wasson as their Sweetheart at the annual Moonshiner's Ball.

Detroit Sig Eps held their annual Spring Formal initiation Dinner Dance at the Raleigh House. The Outstanding Senior Award was presented jointly to John Erb and Dick Schwartz. The Mike Devlin Award, presented to the outstanding Sig Ep athlete, went to Larry LaMange. Jim Sieber was named as best member while Jay Reynolds received the best pledge award.

The Sig Ep Follies were the attraction of the Midway at Spring Carnival.

East Carolina Sig Eps during March held their annual spring quarter Beach Weekend at Myrtle Beach, S.C. To provide entertainment they took along a band, The Stax of Gold.

Ferris State Sig Eps for the six consecutive year have seen their candidate for Sweetheart for Sweetheart Weekend win the honor. She is Karen McPherson.

Florida Sig Eps held their annual Golden Hearts Weekend April 18-21 in the Bahamas. Eighty-six brothers and dates drove to Miami where they sailed from Dodge Island Friday afternoon and returned the following Monday morning. They sailed aboard the Italian liner Flavia.

Daytime activities included swimming in two luxurious pools, volleyball, and sunbathing on the sun deck. For night-time entertainment one could go dancing in two different night clubs, take in a floor show or visit a casino. Once ashore in the Bahamas members of the group toured the island and visited Government House, Bay Street, Paradise Island, and the straw market.

On the return cruise the Captain held a private cocktail party in the ship's plush Riviera Night Club where the new sweetheart, Betsy McKnight, was crowned.

Florida Sig Eps have initiated 19 girls into the newly formed Little Sisters of the Golden Heart. They have brightened things up by painting the Dempster Dumpster, bringing coffee and donuts over during finals, and helping with an Easter Egg hunt for married students' children.

George Washington Sig Eps elected Susan Hillyard, Chi Omega, sophomore from Wilmington, Del., as Sweetheart. The annual formal Golden Heart Ball was held March 29.

At Georgia, the Public Relations Committee, headed by Steve King, established the Girls of the Golden Heart. Members are girls lavaliered or pinned to brothers. Sig Eps have elected Susan Blount, Kappa Delta, as their Sweetheart. Mary Ellen Calhoun, Pi Beta Phi, is chairman of the Girls of the Golden Heart.

Henderson State Sig Eps crowned Judy Williams, Alpha Sigma Alpha, Arkadelphia, as Sweetheart at the annual Sweetheart Ball March 8.

At Indiana, Rick Lutterbach was named Bachelor of the Year at the annual all-campus dance. Carol Macy reigns as the new Queen of Hearts.

Iowa State Sig Eps chose Susan Blow, Gamma Phi Beta, junior in merchandising, as their Sweetheart.

Kansas State Sig Eps held their annual Father's Day March 22-23 and enjoyed the NCAA basketball finals. Afterwards the brothers and fathers ate heartily at a wienie roast.

The annual Golden Heart Ball and Banquet was held February 22.

Lehigh Sig Eps held their annual Sweetheart weekend, having dinner, Pennsylvania Dutch style, at Walps Restaurant. Radelle Bolza was crowned Sweetheart.

Lewis and Clark Sig Eps elected Beth Bollinger, of Napa, Calif., as their Sweetheart at their annual House Dance in the Portland Hilton. Eighty actives and guests danced to the music of Everitt Merrill amid sparkling fountains and lavish garden paths which trailed through thousands of roses, carnations, and lilacs.

Maine Sig Eps sponsored the first University Scholarship pageant. The winner of the pageant, Rhonda Whittaker, is eligible to compete in the Miss Maine contest at Portland.

The chapter took first in the IFC Sing, making it four firsts and two seconds in six years.

Sig Eps held their annual Hawaiian party April 19.

M.I.T. Sig Eps selected Barbara Phyllis Seibert as the recipient of the Annual Blatts and Boonabs award at Sweetheart Ball.

Memphis State Sig Eps at their Queen of Hearts Ball selected Anne Ribbeck, Alpha Delta Pi, as their queen.

Miami (Fla.) Sig Eps held their annual sweetheart formal at the Coral Reef Yacht Club in Coconut Grove, May 9. The affair was attended by undergraduates and graduates. Soul music was provided by a nine-piece group. The new Sweetheart is June Wennik. A pre-party was held at brother Sibley's home to celebrate Sig Ep's 20th year at Miami.

Michigan State Sig Eps visited 18 sororities on Valentine's Day, presented the president with a rose, and serenaded the girls. The chapter selected Joanne Field, a sophomore at MSU, as Sweetheart. They also organized a young women's auxiliary—Little Sisters of the Golden Heart—of which there are 20 charter members.

Missouri-Rolla Sig Eps selected Sharyn Leigh-ton as 1969 sweetheart.

Monmouth Sig Eps held their annual Sweet-heart Banquet on Valentine's Day and serenaded their dates by the light of a flaming heart.

Montana Sig Eps crowned Lynn Anderson as Queen of Hearts at the annual ball held in the Mansion high above the city of Missoula.

Sig Eps at their annual senior banquet in the Florence Hotel, Missoula, heard an address by George Mitchell, vice-president of administration of the University, and presented the traditional awards.

Dennis Lind was recognized as the outstanding senior; John Davison as the outstanding athlete; Gale Kerns, outstanding scholar for the fourth year; A. J. Rieserspirit and David Davis, outstanding alumni.

Guests included parents, alumni, and friends of the fraternity. Marty Melosi was emcee. Dr. and Mrs. Vedder Gilbert, longtime friends of the chapter, held a reception in their home.

Montana State Sig Eps elected Pam Hage-land, Chi Omega, chapter Sweetheart.

At North Carolina, Barbara Jane Orr is Sweetheart.

At Omaha, "Do better the things we do best" was the theme for the annual Greek Week banquet. Chairman Bob Gilmore chose the theme. Nebraska Beta collected eight of the 17 awards.

Oregon State Sig Eps named Rory Johnson as their 1968 Queen of Hearts at the fall term house dance.

Penn State Sig Eps had the best turnout ever for their annual Mother's Day weekend.

San Diego State Sig Eps held their annual Queen of Hearts Formal at Laguna Beach, April 19. Robyn Prime was chosen as Sweetheart presi-dent.

San Jose State Sig Eps held their Southern Ball the week of January 5 to 11. The chapter house was barricaded with hay, a watchtower constructed, and cannon drawn into place. Brothers and pledges armed with torches and the presi-dent, Bill Smith, mounted on horseback pro-claimed our secession from fraternity row. Confederate flags were flown while pledges guarded the fortress. The end of the week was celebrated by dining and dancing at the Brookdale Lodge in the Santa Cruz mountains.

The Queen of Hearts dance was held at South Lake Tahoe the weekend of March 22-23. The coronation banquet took place at the Sands Hotel where Sue Baker, Alpha Chi Omega, was crowned queen.

South Carolina Sig Eps held their annual Sweetheart Ball February 28. They welcomed back a host of alumni who journeyed from near and far to be with their brothers. Pete Pantsari received the Outstanding Active of the Year award. Jim Tackett received the Outstanding Pledge Award. Paul Sohn received the Outstand-ing Pledge Scholarship Award.

South Florida Sig Eps entertained Tampa U. Sig Eps and their dates at a lavish semiformal at the Floridan Hotel in downtown Tampa. The fea-ture of the evening was the presentation of the Alpha pledge class project. This is a bronze plaque inscribed as follows: "The Charter Mem-bers and Founding Fathers of Florida Iota, ΣΦΕ." A list of the 33 founders follows.

South Florida Sig Eps treated the Chi Ome-gas to a pizza party.

Linda Finney, Delta Zeta, is Sweetheart.

Southern Mississippi brothers at Spring For-mal chose Wendy Bates as new Sweetheart. Dave Fondren was named Active of the Year.

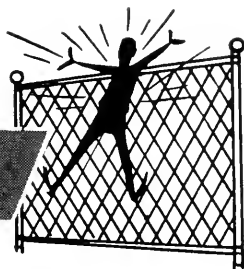

Stevens Point Sig Eps in their annual Canoe Race for all-Greek competition again won the event. A parents' day saw an attendance of about 150 parents. A program of understanding the frater-nity followed by a picnic topped off the day.

Stevens Tech Sig Eps in March held their annual Sweetheart Weekend. Ginny Erdman, wife of Dennis Erdman, '69, was chosen Sweetheart.

Tennessee Sig Eps chose Gail Johnson, Kappa Delta, new Sweetheart at the Queen of Hearts Ball. The annual Roaring Twenties party was held March 8.

William and Mary Sig Eps held their annual Mardi Gras party March 15.

The BACKSTOP

THE JOURNAL—

THIS ISSUE AND THE NEXT

Our outstanding undergraduate leaders have an excellent idea of the new direction the fraternity world is taking.

The article, "Kentucky Sig Eps Communicate the Principles of Brotherhood," by Jerry Leger and Gerry Ronayne describes a speaker-discussion series which was sufficiently worthy to merit TV coverage and which, more important, broadcast the truth that the fraternity's chief reason for existence is not to afford members a perpetual series of parties but to teach brotherhood.

The article, "The Chapter Library at Delaware," describes the great good that a chapter library may accomplish by bringing an academic climate into the chapter house—in this instance it was instrumental in raising the chapter's grade point average appreciably. By adding the proper books to the library, Delaware Alpha brothers provide the climate that a relevant fraternity requires.

"A New Home at New Mexico," by John Anderson should serve as a "shining example" feature for chapters that have grown discouraged because their housing has become inadequate.

"Evansville Sig Eps Create a War Memorial," by Gerald Matthews and Dave Elliott tells the story of a dream. It was the dream of Evansville Sig Eps that a new bridge linking the states of Indiana and Kentucky be a memorial to America's fallen soldiers in Vietnam, and with the consent of the governors of the two states and much work on the part of the brothers, this dream came true. Not least, this story reveals that the image the Sig Ep chapter has gained in the eyes of the people of the community and of surrounding communities is the kind that a relevant college fraternity should have. In the Campus Life section of this JOURNAL an item reveals that the Evansville Sig Eps won the IFC Scholarship Trophy and is the only fraternity to rank above the all-men's average. Participation in public service has not caused these brothers to forget their academic aims.

That the chapters of the Fraternity and many individual members are making good names for Sigma Phi Epsilon is revealed in our Campus Life and Sig Ep Athletes sections. All-Americans pictured are Jeff Osborn, Arizona State, baseball, and Dave Keller, Toledo, wrestling.

The inside front cover of this September issue reports the progress of the SPECTRA '76 campaign of the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation. Under the energetic guidance of Grand President J. E. Zollinger, the campaign is rolling. Within a brief period, 15 per cent of the $1,000,000 goal has already been pledged.

Our November issue will again feature the Sigma Phi Epsilon Annual Report, prepared by Chapter Services Director Charles N. White, Jr. and his colleagues at Headquarters. During 1968-69, the Fraternity gained new chapters at Georgia Southern and Murray State. At the end of the term 12 colonies were in operation.

The story of the installation of the Murray State chapter will appear in the November issue. It could not be presented in the September issue as scheduled, as the new chapter failed to submit the material.

During the two-year period from June 1, 1967, to May 31, 1969, the 58 NIC member fraternities installed 368 new chapters, or 184 per year. During the four year-period covered in the 18th edition of Baird's Manual (June 1, 1963 through May 31, 1967), these fraternities established 477 new chapters, or 119.25 per year. In physical numbers this is phenomenal expansion, which illustrates an increasing faith on the part of the administration of America's colleges and universities. However, it is a faith not matched by the fraternities themselves, as fewer and fewer members of the Freshman Class are attracted by the values of brotherhood. It is obviously because the fraternities, by and large, display a hedonistic facade and fail to communicate what the real values are.

The most expensive feature of the November JOURNAL will be coverage of the Conclave/Academy, held at Dallas, Tex., August 16-20.
